Report of the Mayor

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I submit for your consideration my report for the year ending December 31, 1917.

It will be gratifying to every taxpayer to know that the financial condition of the city has never been more satisfactory than at the present time, and that the past year shows the largest reduction of the bonded debt of any year during the quarter of a century that Rutland has been a city. The treasurer's report shows the reduction to be $72,434.40, made up as follows:

General appropriation to the sinking fund	$8,000 00
School bonds Nos. 573 and 574, paid from the general fund	2,000 00
Water bonds due in 1924, paid from water funds	50,000 00
Net amount earned by the sinking fund	12,434 40

This leaves the net bonded debt only $280,244.99. $97,000 of this is water debt, $66,000 of which is held in the sinking fund. Very few, if any, cities of the size of Rutland can make a better financial showing. While the present administration claims no special credit for the reduction of the water debt because the funds used for the purpose were on hand at the beginning of the year, it is a personal satisfaction to be able to report the retirement of these bonds during the year 1917.

I am pleased to state that there is no outstanding temporary indebtedness and that the year closed with $58,925.59 cash in the treasury (exclusive of school funds), $38,862.91 of this amount being in the water account; also that the city received nearly $3,200 00 interest on current funds during the year.

It was necessary to increase the tax rate from $1.80 to $2.00 to meet the state tax of twenty per cent, assessed for war purposes, and a like amount will have to be provided for the year 1918.

I call attention to two statements which will be appended to the city treasurer's report: one showing the grand list and tax rate for each of the past twenty-five years, and the other the expenditures in each account for the same period.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The unusual amount of work accomplished in this department during the past year could not have been done without what is practically a gratuitous service by our Commissioner of Public Works, who gave of his time, ability and experience in self-sacrificing devotion to public welfare.

Efficiency has been the watch word of the hour, and I am positive that every hundred cents expended has produced a dollar's worth in return.

Most of the equipment in this department is worn out, and while effort will be made to repair where possible, absolute necessity may compel the purchase of at least two pieces of road machinery. I hesitate, however, at this time in making any recommendations that would entail the expenditure of a considerable sum of money. Our policy during the present year will be, as in the past, to meet conditions as they present themselves, having in mind at all times the state of our finances.

The public welfare has received first consideration when street improvements were contemplated; the natural consequence has been that the twenty per cent of the Grand List appropriated by law for highway purposes has given gratifying results.

I respectfully refer you to the report of our Commissioner of Public Works for a detailed account of the work of this Department.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY.

Fire.

Our Fire Department, while lacking in modern equipment necessary to attain the best results, has nevertheless on more than one occasion proven its efficiency by the service performed.

Police.

It is remarkable that a city the size of Rutland could be safe-guarded by such a small police force; this in itself is ample guarantee of the high quality of the work rendered by these men.

The recommendations of the Commissioner of Public Safety are the result of a close association with and a careful study of the needs of both departments, and are worthy of your most earnest consideration.

DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

The successful management of the poor calls for a particular kind of knowledge and capacity. The solution has been found in the appointment by my predecessor of the present Overseer and his worthy wife who have successfully conducted both kinds of work. A closer alliance of all charitable associations with the city's poor department would contribute to clearer knowledge and understanding of the needs of the city's poor, avoiding excessive help for some, perhaps, and little help for others who are worthy. Under the guidance of the Overseer of Poor for the purpose of unity of action greater efficiency will result in achieving the end sought.

HOSPITAL AND LIBRARY.

The Rutland City Hospital and Rutland Free Library are worthy of our every effort; their value has been well proven and their continued maintenance is an absolute necessity.

In conclusion I desire to express my appreciation to the heads of the various departments and thank them and all who assisted me in the performance of my duties during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY C. BRISLIN,

Mayor.

STREETS

At the beginning of the year our streets were so generally out of repair that quite a large percentage of the street money has necessarily been used in repairing and resurfacing some of the worst sections of street surfaces. The Street Department activities like all other work was considerably delayed by the shortage of labor. However, in addition to the repairs we have constructed more than one-half mile of new macadam roadway as shown by the tables.

CRUSHER AND TRUCK

We crushed about 11,000 tons of stone, the larger part of which was delivered by the truck. The cost of labor and teams has increased the necessity for another truck in this department, probably a smaller truck with less capacity would be convenient to have for use in handling the lighter trucking.

SIDEWALKS

The sidewalks had received very little attention during the past year or two, consequently, we have repaired and rebuilt several sections of the older walks which on account of changes in grades, digging of ditches, etc., had to be reconstructed. We have also built about one-third of a mile of new concrete walks and about one and one-half miles of crushed stone walks.

SEWERS.

In this department we were somewhat handicapped the past year on account of shortage of labor and did not use but two-thirds of the amount appropriated for the work in this department, but succeeded in putting in a few short sewers and erecting thirteen catch basins that were badly needed.

WATER DEPARTMENT

The following tables will give all extensions of mains, new hydrants and valves set.

A cement retaining dam should be constructed in Mendon stream at intake valve, provided with flash boards, and flood gate should extend from present spillway to north bank five feet below bed of stream. This would direct all or very nearly all the water into large reservoir when the supply in stream is low.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Safety

FIRE DEPARTMENT

This Department is made up of the Chief Engineer, one first assistant Engineer, one second assistant Engineer, nine regular firemen and thirteen call men. This is the smallest department of any city in New England the size of Rutland, but the men are all fire-fighters and are on the job every minute from the time the alarm comes in until the release is sounded.

The expense of maintaining the Department the past year was $12,199.03. An itemized account of the expenditures will be found in the list of orders paid by the City Treasurer.

Our fire loss the past year, a list of which is appended, amounts to $26,601.34. This includes the loss on the furnishings of the Hotel Bardwell, but not on the building, the loss on which has not yet been adjusted.

The Bardwell fire was one of the most stubborn that the department has been called upon to subdue in many years. Occurring on the coldest day of an extremely cold winter, it was difficult to work to advantage; but the men stayed at their posts without complaint, regardless of frost-bites and other discomforts. A serious accident occurred at this fire when fireman D. E. Blanchard fell from a ladder fracturing both legs. He has since been confined to the City Hospital.

During the year the Department has responded to 90 alarms, an unusually large number. Of these 33 were bell alarms, 49 still alarms and 8 false alarms. Notwithstanding this large number of calls, the Department has succeeded in keeping the fire loss below the average.

The motor truck at Station No. 1 has done such efficient work that I would suggest that your Honorable body consider replacing in the future the horses at Station No. 2 with a similar truck. The cost of maintenance, aside from the liability insurance, is only about one-third of the cost of maintaining the horse-drawn apparatus, and it would add very much to the efficiency of the Department.

The need of an additional man at Station No. 1 still exists.

An inventory of the property in this Department shows a total value of $27,712.12.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

The police department consists of one chief of police, an acting chief of police, six regular officers and 32 special policemen, Chief Bert S. Hyland and Patrolman Bert A. Barrett being temporarily relieved of their duties while in the service of the country.

The arrests during the year 1917 total 321, the least number handled by the local department in the last 15 years. Of these 220 were arrested for intoxication, while 101 were for other offenses. Of this number 16 were females and the balance males.

A recommendation of the addition of another regular patrolman made last year has not been acted on and still holds good, for, with the increase in the automobile traffic and the specially congested condition of Merchants Row where it is double tracked, an extra officer is an absolute necessity in the summer months at least.

The question of further ordinances governing the parking of automobiles on Merchants Row should be given consideration before the opening of the automobile season. With machines parked on either side of the row and electricies in traffic as usual, there are many times when it would be impossible for the fire truck to obtain passage in anything like proper time and when seconds may count for thousands of dollars. I would most respectfully suggest that a committee from the board be appointed to investigate this subject for report.

There is but one other serious problem facing the police force at the present time. This is the newsboy proposition. Youngsters six years old and from this to 10 years are on the streets until all hours of the night and with almost no parental control in many cases. This could be remedied to a certainty by the licensing of the newsboys, giving all who applied a license, this to be held just as long as he lived up to the rules laid down by the committee in charge of issuing the license and the accompanying distinguishing badge. Another way of assisting the officers in this matter would be the changing over of the fire alarm test from 8:45 o'clock in the morning to 8:45 o'clock at night and having this blow as a curfew.

The expenses of the Police Department for the year 1917 were as follows:

Pay roll	$6,635 60
Commissioner's Salary	100 00
Telephone and Signal Service	213 71
Repairing Coats	30 00
Sundry Expenses	106 29
Total	$7,085 60

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. E. CHALMERS,

Commissioner of Public Safety.

Report of the City Attorney

To the Honorable City Council:

Your City Attorney respectfully submits the following report from April 1st to December 31st, 1917.

While the city has not been engaged in any extensive litigation a reasonable amount of work has fallen to the legal department. Besides assisting Mr. Adams in bringing delinquent taxpayers into the fold, we have also co-operated with Mr. Hickey in instituting and prosecuting to successful conclusions several suits for the recovery of money expended by his department for which responsible individuals of adjoining towns were liable.

The controversy between the city and the State of Vermont, relative to the disputed ownership of a large tract of land on or near the city's water shed in the Town of Mendon has been equitably adjusted, a boundary line agreeable to all parties having been established by A. C. Grover, City Engineer, and L. F. Croft representing the State of Vermont. The settlement has been made permanent by the exchange of quit-claim deeds, which deeds have been duly recorded.

The case of the City vs. Michael Rooney is still pending on the report of the commissioners, Mr. Fenton looking after the interest of the city, your City Attorney being disqualified to act, owing to the fact that he appeared for Mr. Rooney at the trial of the case in 1916.

During the past year through the efforts of your Overseer of the Poor and the City Attorney several insane unfortunates have been removed from the city to the Brattleboro Retreat to be cared for at the expense of the State of Vermont, in accordance with the statutes.

Your City Attorney has been pleased to advise and assist the various Boards, Committees and Officers of the city at all times when called upon so to do and has found the work most agreeable and pleasant.

With the exception of the Rooney matter, no legal dispute in which the city is interested is pending.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN S. DORSEY,

City Attorney.

Report of Overseer of Poor

To the Honorable City Council:

I respectfully submit my report as Overseer of Poor for the year ending December 31st, 1917.

The cost of maintaining this department shows an increase over the preceding year, due chiefly to contagious diseases and the high cost of living.

The Isolation Hospital alone cost this department over $650.00, $548.00 of which was paid, the balance being in dispute. By isolating four cases at the City Farm and caring for them without extra help, heat, etc., we have saved additional expense.

I have collected during the year and paid into the city treasury $900.62. Of this amount $638.62 was reimbursements for money expended from the appropriation for the care of individuals, and out-of-town poor. By using $631.05 of this amount the second time, and justly too, inasmuch as it was in the nature of a loan, we have succeeded in getting through the year without an extra appropriation and at a net cost of $5,730.43.

It has been my aim to be economical as possible, having in mind the best interests of the city and poor alike. No deserving case, chargeable to the City of Rutland, has been neglected. Undeserving cases have been given temporary relief, the head of the family forced to go to work and provide for his dependents.

Report of Health Officer

Rutland, Vermont.*

Gentlemen:—Herewith I submit a report of the transactions of the Health Department for the year ending December 31st, 1917.

The number of transmissible diseases is somewhat in excess of 1916, due to an epidemic of scarlet fever (infected milk supply) and to an outbreak of German measles.

The city was entirely free from infantile paralysis in 1917.

In accordance with legal requirements I was summoned to view the bodies of 17 persons who died without medical attendance and after investigation death certificates were issued as follows:

Organic heart disease	5
Suicide by firearms	3
Steam railroad accidents	2
Abscess of brain	1
Pneumonia	1
Alcoholism	1
Accidental gunshot wound	1
Suicide by drowning	1
Accidental denatured alcohol poisoning	1

17

There were three deaths from typhoid fever, all in cases which had been brought to this city for treatment.

The following tables show statistics in detail:

Report of the President of the Board of School Commissioners

To His Honor the Mayor and the Citizens of Rutland:

In compliance with State Law, I herewith submit my report as President of the Board of School Commissioners.

Now of all times, when our Country's ideals and institutions are at stake, the work of such an essentially American institution as our public school system should be thoroughly understood by its patrons. One of the tests of the efficiency of a system of training, whether intellectual or physical, is the ability of that system to adjust itself to an unusual condition, and the ability of the products of that system to meet the requirements that unusual conditions place upon them. "Knowledge is Power" and Knowledge is one of the few human qualities for which there is no substitute. An unusual condition confronts us and, to-day, the call is going up, from the heads of the governmental departments, for skilled minds, skilled hands, skilled bodies, in a word, for "Knowledge." If blind obedience and brute force, coupled with a preparation that was almost uncanny, was to be the great essential in twentieth century warfare, this world war would have ended in two short months. But this was not to be. The day of blindness and brutality is done, thank God, and in its place stands discipline and intelligent co-operation and undying faith in the right. Ours is no decadant Kultur, that seeks to justify its ends by murder, outrage, slavery and sacrilege, but a higher, truer knowledge that like our government is of the people, by the people, for the people, and which shall not perish from the earth. On the list of men who have gone from Rutland to join the colors, I recognize over one hundred and twenty names of recent graduates and students of our Public Schools and there are undoubtedly others with whose names

I am not familiar. Many of them are in France to-day, and this is the story of every Public School system in our country. Is this not a record of which to be proud? Does it not prove that our national system of education teaches something not found in books, something of patriotism and of sacrifice and of true manhood? Is it not an enterprise worth maintaining and worth working for?

FINANCES

It is hard to turn from the all engrossing thought of the hour and discuss dollars and cents, but the taxpayers naturally have an interest in these matters. The school finances are in a fairly satisfactory condition. Our financial statement has been published, and explains itself. To summarize, in 1917 the School Board paid its current expenses and in addition have reduced the deficit of 1916 over $3000. In 1916 our assets exceeded our liabilities by $208.59 and in 1917 the excess was $2,483.74. In fact our only liabilities on December 31st were rent for the Dana School lots, which is not due until March, 1918, $2,394.96 for fuel purchased in 1917 for use in 1918, and which might well be a charge on 1918, and three small bills aggregating less than one hundred dollars that were rendered too late to be paid before Dec. 31st. This is not a bad showing and is due to three things: (1) The Committee on School Buildings of 1916 went extensively into the work of repairs. Like all enterprises of a similar nature, when a man endeavors to correct the errors of years gone by or tries to bring an old building or an antiquated heating system up to date, repairs cost more than he originally expected or could have reasonably foreseen. The appropriation for repairs was necessarily overdrawn, and the Committee was subjected to severe criticism from some of our self-constituted censors. The ultimate result, however, was that the school buildings have required but little attention during the past year and the expenses for repairs have been reduced to a minimum. (2) To a combined effort on the part of Commissioners, Superintendent, teachers and janitors to exercise the strictest economy; no one realizes better than I how hard it is to deny the schools facilities for increased efficiency, but a difficult situation confronted us and thanks to combined effort it has, I hope, been successfully overcome. (3) To the increase of 5 cents on the Grand List in our annual School appropriation authorized by the taxpayers in March, 1917, and later approved by the Mayor and appropriated by the Board of Aldermen. I hope the financial showing made by the Board of School Commissioners during the past year has shown that this vote of confidence was justified and I take this opportunity to express the sincere thanks of myself and of my colleagues to the taxpayers, the aldermen and his Honor the Mayor for this very timely financial assistance.

The Board of School Commissioners have once more asked for an appropriation of 55 cents; from an experience on the School Board extending back to 1904, I seriously doubt if the Public Schools of this City can ever again be maintained at a satisfactory degree of efficiency on a 50 cent basis. The Schools asked for a 50 cent appropriation in 1905. At that time our average attendance was 1704 pupils between the ages of 4 and 18 including over 200 children enrolled in the Kindergarten. To-day we teach about 2200 pupils from about six years of age and upward. Then the value of our school property was estimated at $155,700.00 and our insurance was $59,000.00. To-day our City Treasurer reports the value of school property at $207,000, on which we carry $97,000 of insurance. Our pay-roll in 1905 was $33,717.62 and now it is in round numbers $49,000, and during this period fuel, supplies, text-books, everything connected with school work has increased in value and during this time our aid from the State has dropped from $6,238.85 to $2,579.17. School Boards and taxpayers in other cities of Vermont have been quicker to appreciate the plain trend of the times. Within the last four years Burlington, Rockingham, Montpelier and St. Albans have all received 55 cents on the dollar of their Grand Lists; St. Johnsbury and Springfield 60 cents, Brattleboro 58 cents, Bennington 64 cents and Barre 71 cents. And yet, until last year, we in Rutland fondly imagined that we could do the impossible and with reduced State aid, with a greatly enlarged school plant, and with the price of every school necessity greatly increased, and with State demands and public sentiment more exacting, could maintain our schools upon the same 50 cent basis of appropriation that was ample for our needs ten and twelve years ago.

The buildings with the exception of the Dana School are old and some buildings were constructed without any regard to the modern requirements of school hygiene. Owing to the repairs made in 1916 the buildings should go for about three years without any great expense. From the nature of their use, school buildings always need more or less attention by way of small repairs and as complete a renovation every three years as school finances will permit. A large number of pupils have left school either to go to work or to enter the Country's service. I expect that more will leave, particularly during the spring term. This is most praiseworthy, but, I earnestly request the parents to co-operate with the teachers in preventing a sudden enthusiasm for industry on the part of their children to be used as a cloak for obtaining a grade promotion or a High School diploma, that under ordinary conditions would be impossible. If vocational courses for army conscripts are established in Rutland, the School Board stands ready to do everything in its power to make such courses successful. In the grades we have lost the services of two teachers by resignation but by a temporary combining of rooms have been able to avoid the necessity of hiring teachers to fill these vacancies. In all the schools there has been a marked enthusiasm in all branches of war relief work and investing in thrift Stamps and War Savings Certificates. A $100 Liberty Bond has been purchased by the pupils for the benefit of the Red Cross. The High School has, in my judgment, showed a marked improvement in all departments and this in spite of several interruptions in work that in other days might have proved serious. In October two High School teachers left us, one to serve his Country, the other upon her request for a temporary leave of absence. In November our instructor in Manual Training was granted a leave of absence on account of illness and one of our teachers of domestic science resigned. These vacancies have been filled very satisfactorily, and, considering the unsettled conditions that prevail in matters educational throughout the Country, we are very fortunate. The standard of the High School work has been raised appreciably and, considering the short time allowed for review, necessitated by the delayed opening of our winter term, the low percentage of failures at mid-years is very gratifying. I heartily congratulate the High School faculty upon the results obtained. Two courses, those in Commercial Law and in Economics are being brought up to a real high school standard and will undoubtedly prove their value in results obtained. The social and athletic activities of the schools have been maintained under careful supervision and in athletics the High School has met with perhaps more than its share of success. Nearly all of the young men who have joined the colors have been indented with one or more branches of school athletic sport, and I cannot help feeling that the self-reliance, self-control and discipline necessary to all branches of interscholastic and intercollegiate sport will be of more use to our Country in her hour of need than characteristics produced by the "informal," "inter-class," and "intramural" type of emasculated athletics now in vogue in some of our institutions of higher education and apologetically referred to as a "war necessity."

I wish to take advantage of this occasion to extend my thanks to my colleagues on the School Board for the honor they have done me, and for the hearty co-operation of Commissioners, Superintendent and teachers alike.

I can hardly remember a year when the work on the School Board and in the schools has been more harmonious: one and all have tried to make the very best of the unsettled conditions of our Country, conditions that I regret to say show little sign of immediate improvement. The absence, by reason of illness, of Mrs. Cramton from meetings of the School Board has been sincerely regretted by us all and her return to our deliberations will be very welcome.

In concluding my mind once more goes back to the terrible war in which the youth of our country are doing such a splendid work, a work symbolized by our High School Service Flag with its ever-increasing number of stars, each star representing a young man from our High School who is very near and very dear to many of our Rutland people. "Good-bye, good luck, God bless them."

HARVEY R. KINGSLEY,

President of Board of School Commissioners.

City of Rutland, January 31, A. D. 1918.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the Board of School Commissioners and City Council of the City of Rutland:

In accordance with the regulations of your Honorable Board, and the requirements of the City Charter, I herewith present my twelfth annual report of the schools of this city.

The statistical tables and other data given in my former reports as a basis of comparison, also the reports of the Principal of the High School and the heads of the special departments have been prepared with the usual care for record in our office and for the press, but, by special direction of the Board, coupled with the desire to economize in the expense of printing, they will not be published in the city report as in former years.

The school enrollment, membership and attendance during the natural school year ending June thirtieth last, were practically the same as during the preceding year and the same high per cent of attendance was maintained. The attendance for the present school year has been less than normal due to the economic conditions in our country which attract labor at remunerative wages, resulting in some removals from the city, to the high cost of living which demands the greatest wage-earning power of the family, and to the fact that a larger number of children than usual are attending private schools. The decreased attendance, however, has been so slight that consolidation of schools was impossible except in two instances where the services of two teachers were dispensed with. This slight saving in the teaching force is more than offset by the large increase in the cost of fuel and other school supplies.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The financial statement for the year ending December 31st, 1917, made by the Finance Committee of the School Board, and incorporated into the City Treasurer's report shows that the gross receipts for the support of the public schools in this city for 1917 were $69,889.68. Of this amount $61,369.51 was realized from city taxes, $2,579.17 from the State, $3,305.50 from tuition, $733.35 from the sale of high school text books, and the remainder, $1,902.15, from incidentals, insurance, ground rent and unexpended balance of the previous year.

The total expenditures were $69,688.35. Of this amount $53,845.62 was paid for salaries, of which $2,471.52 was due in 1916, $3,399.44 for repairs on school buildings, of which $2,292.08 was also due in 1916, $5,160.80 for fuel, light and power, $5,065.96 for text books and supplies, $616.55 for insurance on school property, and the balance, $1,599.98, for rent, printing and advertising and sundries, leaving a balance in the Treasury of $201.33. The unexpended balance of $75.54 from the special bond issue for repairs on the High School Building was applied to the architect's bill which exhausted that appropriation. An itemized statement of the assets and liabilities of the school department on December 31st, 1917, filed with the City Treasurer, showed that the assets which included cash balance in the Treasury, rebates accrued but not due from the State, fuel and supplies on hand aggregated $5,043.50, while the indebtedness which included $2,394.96 due for coal aggregated $2,559.76, giving an excess in assets over liabilities of $2,483.74. A similar statement of the assets and liabilities on December 31st, 1916, placed the excess of assets over liabilities at $208.59. This favorable financial showing was made possible only by the exercise of the strictest economy in all departments, by restricting the use of school supplies, by limiting repairs to the absolutely essential, and by a slight increase in the school tax rate.

55c TAX RATE NEEDED.

Prior to last year the public schools in this city had been maintained on a tax of 50c on the dollar of the Grand List. For several years the cost of conducting schools, not only in Vermont and in New England, but throughout our Country, has steadily increased. The same influences which have affected the cost of running state and national governments, large business enterprises such as railroads, manufacturing plants, etc., have also affected the cost of conducting the schools. Labor is asking larger returns, the state and the public in general are becoming more and more exacting in their demands. To meet these conditions and the high cost of living larger salaries must be paid in the schools as has been done in other lines of business.

Last year the city school tax was raised 5c on the dollar, which enabled the School Board to meet all bills for that year and reduce the indebtedness of the previous year between two and three thousand dollars. The School Board is again compelled to ask for this slight increase in the tax rate to meet the need of the schools for the present year. The following are some of the reasons why this increase is still necessary:—namely, the increased consumption of coal due to the enlargement and improvement of the heating plants and the advance in the price of fuel, which will probably result in an increased expenditure of $2000 over that of 1915; the advance in the price of papers, pencils, pens, inks and brushes, which will without doubt cost the schools this year $500 more than in 1916, and similar advances in the prices of supplies in the Manual Training, Household Economics and Science Departments. The demand for labor, skilled or unskilled, occasioned by the present economic and critical condition of our country has exhausted the surplus supply of teachers and a serious problem now confronts us in holding our present teaching force and in filling vacancies. Compared with the wages paid skilled labor in other lines of work the salaries paid our teachers are low. When a vacancy occurs, other than in the grades, it is almost impossible to fill the position satisfactorily at the salary previously paid and a higher salary paid a new teacher tends to create unrest and criticism from those employed at lower salaries. This condition of affairs is not peculiar to Rutland and is receiving serious attention in nearly every important town and city in the United States; the general tendency is to increase teachers' salaries to meet the present crisis. When such increases are granted by other towns and cities, without similar action being taken here, it makes the situation in Rutland in retaining the services of our best teachers more acute. It would seem, therefore, that the only proper solution is to increase the salaries of our teachers and this cannot be done unless the city provides the funds. In case the tax rate is raised 5c on the dollar, I see no reason why such additional appropriation could not be apportioned by the School Board somewhat as follows: one-third to meet increased cost of fuel and supplies, one-third to meet indebtedness of former years and one-third to increase salaries.

TEACHING FORCE AND PENSIONS.

The teaching force has met with many changes during the present school year. Ten vacancies have occurred in the High School faculty besides two prolonged leaves of absence. These positions were filled as satisfactorily as was possible under the circumstances. There have been five vacancies in the grades; one was filled permanently, two temporarily and two, by consolidation of schools, were left unfilled for the present.

The changes in the High School faculty were occasioned almost wholly by low salaries and by the war. I have already referred to the need of increasing salaries. The influence of the war upon the entire teaching force has been felt seriously and will doubtless increase as the war progresses. One teacher is now serving in the army and two have married army officers. Five teachers now employed in the High School are within the draft age and may be called into the service. Several teachers are fitting themselves for government and business positions which offer great monetary attractions. It is, therefore, probable that our present teaching force will meet with further changes during the year, when the difficulty in filling the vacancies will have become more perplexing, since conditions that confront us are universal.

The sentiment among teachers in favor of a state system of pensions is very pronounced, but the present conditions seem unfavorable for any new venture involving the expenditure of money. It is, therefore, probable that during the period of the war it will be very difficult to secure new and effective legislation on this subject. As soon as conditions become normal, the Educational department of the state will doubtless urge the enactment of additional pension laws, which will bring Vermont more in line with the other thirty or more states which have already taken favorable action in this matter. It is believed that such pension measures will receive the hearty support of the teachers and citizens of Rutland and that an effective pension system for the state will prove one of the most potent factors in insuring permanency and contentment in our teaching force.

SPECIAL SCHOOLS.

Continuation schools were in session for four weeks during the summer vacation open to High School as well as grade pupils. Without doubt by such means nearly a score of pupils in the High School, and double that number in the grades were kept from repeating the work of a full year. This saved the city nearly four times the expense involved. Such schools are fast winning general favor and are finding a permanent place in the Educational systems of many towns and cities, and this is the case in Rutland.

The School Board last winter conducted a Public Evening School during the winter term, the Educational Committee of the Rutland Woman's Club supplying the funds for paying the instructors. The same Committee guaranteed the funds for paying the instruction in a similar school this present season. The Board, while appreciating the generous offer of that Committee, deemed it unwise to attempt an Evening School this winter on account of the shortage of fuel, the postponement of all schools, and the large number of prospective scholars affected by the draft law. Personally, I am greatly in sympathy with this movement and believe that under normal conditions Public Evening Schools should be maintained in this city.

I have frequently expressed my approval of well-conducted Kindergarten Schools. In my opinion such schools should be open to pupils between five and six years of age and partake largely of the character of first grade schools, so that exceptionally bright and healthy children might pass from them directly into the second grade and enable other children not so favored to more easily and fully complete in two years the work of the first grade. Under our present system many more failures to make grade occur during the first year of the child's attendance than during any other single year; state and federal reports show that the failures during the first year of children entering at five years of age, are not more numerous than of those entering at six years. Should our Teacher Training Class be of considerable size next year it would seem possible to open two or more such schools and place them under that Department with little additional cost to the city.

In my report of last year I discussed at some length the aims and advantages of the Junior High School. Twenty-five such schools are now in operation in Vermont, many of them have passed the experimental stage and have demonstrated their right to exist. The most serious objections to starting at once a Junior High School in Rutland, are the disturbed conditions of the Country, the forced readjustment of grades in the several school buildings and the lack of funds to provide suitable accommodations and equipment. When conditions become normal, it is probable all these objections may easily be overcome and such a school established on a permanent basis.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The High School has had a successful year. Co-operation and harmony have prevailed in all departments and in all school enterprises. More serious application to study has been noticeable, and the standard of scholarship has been appreciably raised. Notwithstanding the fact that the High Schools everywhere have suffered much more than the grades by the disturbed conditions of the country, the attendance has been very satisfactory, and the tuition from non-resident pupils was the largest ever collected in one year. The school is doing an important work in training the youth of this community and is worthy of the confidence and support which it receives. It gives me pleasure to endorse the report of its Principal and to incorporate into this report some of his data and important suggestions, as follows:—

“Elimination.—Last year we had a very high percentage of students who left school or did not return. Most of these were students who had failed in some of the work of the preceding year, either through lack of study or lack of capacity. A rather careful analysis of last year’s losses from school seems to show that attention enough has not been paid to the Freshman classes. Where failures take place in the first year, there is quite likely to be a corresponding loss from school in the later years of the course. Last year we lost from school 128 students, about 100 of whom left because of failure. The elimination this year has been materially less. So far, we have lost 54 students. Of these, 11 left because of illness; and 19 withdrew because of failure or lack of interest. Constant attention to the two lower classes will still further reduce this elimination.

“Summer School.—During the month of July we ran a summer school at an expense of $160. As a result of this, fourteen students who had failed in essential subjects were saved a year, while several others were able to make up some work. The small size of the classes in summer school made it possible to teach some of these student how to study, and their work in school this year has shown a very decided improvement. If conditions warrant, the school should be maintained next summer, and if possible, should be made a permanent feature of our school system. It costs about $50 per year for each student. Saving a year for fourteen students, means freeing about $700 worth of instruction that can be given to other students. This saving also means to the community that the students who save a year begin earning one year earlier. This, perhaps, means a saving of at least $300 a year for each student.

“Failures.—Last year at the end of the first semester, the failures were 19.8%; that is, out of every one hundred hours of work taken by students, there was a failure of 19.8 hours. This percentage is unreasonably high. This year our percentage has been reduced to 10.7%. The bulk of failures has been caused by lack of interest on the part of either students or parents, or both. Some students have so many social activities and are up so late nights, that their energies are exhausted and they find it necessary to take their rest in school, in order to be ready for their more important activities of the evening. Of course the responsibility for the failure of these students rests squarely on the parents. Where parents have not the will power and back-bone to insist on the completion of school work, they have only themselves to blame if their children fail. There are also a few parents who wish their children to do a day's work at home in addition to their school work. Of course this is impossible and results in failure. On the whole, however, parents have shown a remarkable degree of co-operation, and a great part of the reduction in failures this year is due to the efforts of parents who have taken hold of the matter earnestly as soon as their attention was called to the cause of failure.

“A Summary of the Year's Progress:—

1. The failures have been reduced from 19.8% to 10.7%.
2. A definite course of study in English has been put into successful operation.
3. The work has been largely expanded in Domestic Science, Mechanical Drawing and Manual Training.
4. We have arranged for credit for work in Music done under the direction of competent and approved Music teachers, thereby allowing students to continue their work in Music and receive enough credit so that the rest of their school work can be materially lightened.

5. We have completed the organization of the school on a departmental basis, with uniform work, examinations and rating of papers in each subject.

6. By increasing the work in the special subjects, we have been able to keep the average size of classes at about twenty-two, and give each teacher one free period for individual assistance and correction of papers.

7. Our problems of discipline have not been serious this year, and the general spirit of the school has been largely improved.

8. We have made plans to increase our library facilities, and hope before the end of the year to have our library on a working basis.

9. Our greatest emphasis this year has been placed on increasing the efficiency of work in the English, Penmanship and Mathematics and our efforts are beginning to bear fruit.

10. Our students have engaged largely in war work activities, and have made a creditable showing in several branches.

“Recommendations.—I recommend that a definite salary schedule be introduced, whereby a teacher will receive, and know that she is going to receive, a definite increase of salary each year up to whatever maximum is fixed by the School Board. If a teacher is worth retaining at all, her services constantly increase in value for at least four or five years. By that time, she may have reached the maximum of efficiency and should be receiving the maximum salary, and that salary should be sufficient for the teacher to pay her expenses at least and devote a part of the vacation to professional advancement.

“I recommend that careful investigation be made to see if a co-operative course for mechanics can be profitably installed. Springfield has a course in which boys spend half their time in school and half in the shops and at the end of the four years receive their high school diplomas and have also served their apprenticeship in a machine shop. This gives the town each year a few new mechanics who have general education enough to become extremely valuable men to the industries. The coming generation is to be one in which the trained manual worker will fill a more important and dignified place than ever before. The success of a particular industrial community will depend largely upon the number of superior men it can prepare thoroughly for this work. It is my judgment that the growth of Rutland will depend largely upon the quality of its skilled labor. The schools should begin at once to interest boys of mechanical tendencies in the higher quality of skilled Workmanship as a desirable, dignified and well-paid life work.

“The institution of a junior high school should also be carefully considered. It is my opinion that with proper departmental teaching in the upper grades, much work now done in the high school could be done to better advantage in the grammar school, and much work now largely done in the grammar schools could be better put off until the children are more mature. Incidentally, the entire school course could then be changed to twelve years instead of thirteen as at present. This has proved to have a pronounced effect in keeping more boys in school until they are better fitted to become valuable men in the community.”

SPECIAL ACTIVITIES.

The School Board, teachers and pupils have each taken a lively interest in all special activities connected with the war. Whatever projects received the endorsement of the School Board have met with hearty co-operation by teachers and scholars and have been carried through to a successful issue. This has been the case in School and Community Gardens; in the purchase of a Liberty Bond; in contributing to the War Recreation Fund; in assisting in the drives of the Young Men's Christian Association, Knights of Columbus and the Salvation Army; in contributing time and money to the Red Cross, both Senior and Junior; in purchasing War and Thrift Saving Stamps, and in assisting in the city's public charities carried on by the Parent-Teacher Associations of the city. The spirit manifested by each and all has been to do his or her part in winning the war.

CONCLUSION.

In closing this report I again make hearty acknowledgment of the unfailing courtesy, good will and assistance so generally extended to me during the past year by all with whom I have been associated.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID B. LOCKE,

Superintendent of Schools.

Rutland, Vermont, February 15, 1918.

Auditors' Report

To the Honorable City Council:

Your Auditors report that they have examined the accounts of the City Treasurer, City Clerk, Overseer of the Poor, Superintendent of Schools and Sinking Fund Commissioners and find that all moneys received by them have been duly accounted for and that they have proper vouchers for all moneys expended. The books of these officials have been kept in first-class manner.

We desire to call attention to the fact that the city has received nearly $3,200.00 interest on daily balances during the year—an item that might be overlooked in studying the financial report. We make special mention of this that the City Treasurer, to whose foresight this is due, may be given proper credit for looking after the city's interest in this respect.

We have examined the tax books in the City Constable's hands and find that apparently he has paid into the treasury all the moneys he has collected. There are uncollected taxes on his books as follows:

1905	26 41
1907	63 69
1908	188 42
1909	31 46
1910	105 40
1911	133 65
1912	381 17
1913	378 88
1914	1,017 53
1915	1,062 16

We understand that practically all the 1904-9 taxes are uncollectible, therefore we recommend that proper action be taken by the Board for the Abatement of Taxes to abate this list of taxes. We also recommend that the Constable be required to furnish a list of such of the 1910-13 taxes as he is not able to collect and that these taxes also be abated.

The amount of uncollected taxes for the years 1914-17 is much larger than it should be and we recommend that the Constable be urged to push the collection of these taxes and that the City Council give him such support and assistance as may be necessary to enable him to close the accounts for this period as soon as possible.

Rutland, Vt., January 31, 1917.

Report of the Mayor

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I submit the following report for the year 1918 for your consideration.

My report for 1917 showed the largest reduction in the bonded debt of any year since the city government went into effect, a reduction of $72,434.40. I am pleased to report that by the purchase of $25,000.00 water bonds, the payment of $2,000.00 school bonds, and the appropriation to and earnings of the sinking fund, the bonded debt has been reduced $48,208.62 in 1918, making the net bonded debt, including $72,000.00 water bonds, $232,036.37. There is no outstanding temporary indebtedness, and there is $13,168.74 cash on hand, exclusive of the cash in the water, street and school departments, against $9,876.71 January 1st, 1917.

The debt reduction for the years 1917 and 1918 is made up as follows:

Water bonds due in 1924, paid from water funds	$50,000 00	$25,000 00
School bonds Nos. 573 and 574, paid from general fund	2,000 00
School bonds Nos. 575 and 576 paid from general fund		2,000 00
Sinking fund appropriation, from general fund	8,000 00	8,000 00
Net earnings of sinking fund	12,434 40	13,208 62
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	$72,434 40	$48,208 62
Total debt reduction, 1917 and 1918		$120,643 02

I called attention in my report for 1917 to the small bonded indebtedness of this city for a city of its size. Taking into consideration the very material reduction in 1918, I feel that the tax payers may well congratulate themselves on the city's financial condition. It is also a satisfaction to me to know that notwithstanding the marked increase in the cost of materials and labor during the past two years, the tax rate for city purposes has not been increased; that excepting the war tax of 20 per cent. imposed by the state, the rate remains the same as before the country entered the great war.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

The Department of Public Works, although laboring under many disadvantages, has accomplished much good work during the past year as shown in the report of the Commissioner. To this report and the recommendations therein I wish to add the following:

There is a nation wide demand for good roads and a wide diversity of opinion as to the conditions, materials and methods necessary to obtain the same. The building of permanent roads is a science which is, to my mind, only in its infancy. Until more fully developed, it will be necessary to follow what seems to be the plan that will give the best results for the money expended.

Rutland seems to be peculiarly situated with respect to obtaining good road material. An analysis of stone taken from deposits in this locality shows the presence of more or less lime, marble and other soft substances, the stone not being of sufficient strength to insure a surface that will stand the strain of the ever increasing automobile traffic. We must, then, turn elsewhere for proper surface material. To obtain this and to properly increase the area of permanent roadway we must have a larger appropriation for street purposes. I believe that eventually the main arteries or state roads in every city and town in the state will be taken care of by Federal and State appropriations, but until this is done, thereby releasing funds to take care of the less important streets in the city, it will be necessary to have more money for street work or benefit certain sections of the city at the expense of other sections.

I find from studying the methods adopted in different cities for raising money for permanent road building, that the issuing of bonds for this purpose seems to be the method most favored. I am given to understand that the system of issuing bonds of small denominations—of $50.00 and upwards—maturing in ten years and paying a fair rate of interest, has proved very satisfactory. However, there is no desire on my part to advocate this or any other plan at this time, but merely to give you the benefit of the little knowledge I have gained of so-called street financeering.

I would suggest that as early as possible a meeting of representative men from our business and industrial life be called to make a thorough investigation of this question in all its phases and report their findings to the citizens, to the end that we may enjoy a better system of highways.

An efficient "patrol system" is absolutely necessary in order that our present highways be maintained in at least a passable condition. Failure to continue this new departure which was started during the early summer was due to the loss of motors at crusher, scarcity of labor, etc.

The Mack truck purchased in 1911 is practically worn out and during the past two years has been continually undergoing repairs. I would recommend the purchase of a modern truck to replace it. Another good investment for the city to make would be the purchase of a combination sprinkler and flusher to take the place of the sprinkler now in use, which is owned by private parties and rented by the Street Department.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

I am heartily in accord with the recommendations of the Commissioner of Public Safety as to the Police and Fire Departments.

The absolute necessity for a motor fire truck to replace the horse drawn truck at Station No. 2 is becoming more apparent daily and I would recommend that one be purchased.

The officials of both departments are deserving of special mention for the efficient manner in which they have performed their duties.

DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

This department is under the direct charge of Overseer John J. Hickey, who has, with the assistance of Mrs. Hickey, given every consideration to deserving cases.

The buildings at the City Farm are in a fair state of repair but are old and require more or less repair work every year. Any recommendations by the Overseer as to improvements at the Farm are worthy of consideration.

MEMORIAL HALL

This building is in a poor state of repair and will require some expenditure of money during the present year. The entire building, as has been recommended in previous reports, should be given over for library purposes. The basement now used by the Library Association is entirely inadequate to meet the every day demands of its patrons.

The Association is deserving of a larger appropriation from our citizens to insure the high standard of public service that has always been maintained.

RECOGNITION OF SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

As an expression of our appreciation for the loyal, patriotic service of the brave men, living and dead, who have helped win the world war, I would suggest that a committee be appointed to prepare a program for welcoming our boys upon their return and to arrange for the presentation to them individually, or as a body, of some personal acknowledgment of our debt of gratitude.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion I desire to express my appreciation to all who have been associated with me during the past year; their hearty co-operation has aided in making possible the City's excellent progress.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY C. BRISLIN,
Mayor.

STREETS.

To say that war conditions have interfered with the work of this department is only stating a self-evident and very important fact. Labor has been very scarce, and, although not high when compared to the increased cost of everything else, yet it has been materially more than ever before in this section.

Consequently, practically everything which has been done during the past year has cost more than similar work in former years. Also, supplies of all kinds have been hard to obtain especially within a reasonable length of time. Consequently, unavoidable delays have been caused both in commencing and in the performing of some of the work of this department. In fact, toward the latter part of the season we were notified not to begin any construction work which was not especially sanctioned by a special United States Board appointed to see that not any except absolutely necessary work was started until after the close of the war.

MACADAM CONSTRUCTION.

We had resurfaced the stone roadways on Baxter, Church and Edson Streets and were resurfacing West Street from the Chaffee crossing westerly toward Center Rutland when, on July 16th, lightning struck the crusher plant, causing a fire which destroyed one of the buildings including two motors, two belts, the air compressor outfit, drill, etc. The insurance adjustment covered a large part of the actual damage to the plant, but in replacing the machinery the delay caused by the existing conditions, to which I have already referred, was considerably exasperating.

The breaking down of the old Mack truck once or twice also caused some inconvenience in pushing the macadam work. The light truck which was purchased at the beginning of the season for this department proved "a friend indeed."

After the crusher plant was crippled, we purchased a few cars of crushed stone from a New York State quarry and placed on the West Street roadway at a point nearly half way between the Chaffee crossing and the City line. Then from that stone westerly to the City limits was finished with a gravel surfacing.

The tables show the roadwork done during the year and the cost of same.

SEWERS.

The winter of 1917-1918 was so severe in this section that some of the shallow sewers froze and had to be relaid and repaired causing considerably more trouble and expense than during ordinary seasons. Sewer work was also handicapped by the slow delivery of material and shortage of labor. In fact the sewer at Pine Street Tunnel was not built on account of the prevailing war time conditions and limitations.

Construction work was also stopped in two instances because we were unable to obtain permits from land owners to construct the drains across their property.

WATER.

The cost of maintenance for the past year has been large, due to the severe winter of 1917-1918 and advance in price of material and labor.

The retaining dam for Mendon stream at intake valve was not constructed because of much very necessary work and scarcity of help when water in stream was low enough for work to be properly done. This dam should be built the coming summer. The Gleason Reservoir was cleaned at the time water was low in stream.

Several broken or worn out hydrants were replaced with new ones and one new hydrant set on Spruce street near Davis Foundry. Several localities in the city require more hydrants and they should be set as soon as possible. The large four way hydrant for south end of Baxter street was not set as the Commissioner of Public Works and City Engineer were unable to secure right of way for ten inch pipe line necessary to supply this hydrant. All material necessary to set this hydrant as planned by City Engineer is now in store house and in the yard and hydrant can be set as soon as right of way is secured. All hydrant branches that have not valves should be supplied as soon as possible. The twelve-inch main on East Street should have a valve at the corner of East Washington Street and one at the corner of Woodstock avenue, and the twelve-inch pipe line from Mendon reservoir should have two valves, set near location of valves in sixteen-inch pipe. A six-inch valve should be set at junction of Freight and Evelyn street on six-inch main going through Union Street thus making possible to shut off this main and not shut off Evelyn Street to Steamer pumping cistern at Depot Park.

Report of Commissioner of Public Safety

To the Honorable City Council:—

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit the annual report of the Fire and Police Departments for the year 1918.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Fire Department is made up of the chief engineer, the first assistant engineer, the second assistant engineer, nine regular firemen and thirteen callmen, an exceedingly small department for a city the size and importance of Rutland.

The expense of maintaining the Department the past year was $13,928.81. An itemized account of the expenditures will be found in the list of orders paid by the City Treasurer.

During the year the Department has responded to 20 bell alarms, 76 still alarms, and 5 false alarms, a total of 101.

Our fire loss the past year, a list of which is appended, amounts to $21,530.75. This does not include the loss on the Thrall Block on Grove St., on the Dyer house on Pearl St., or the loss on the contents of the shirt factory owned by Tauber & Ryttenberg Co., as these losses have not yet been adjusted.

The fire at the shirt factory emphasized the need of a larger hydrant with steamer connections in the immediate vicinity of the Lincoln Iron Works, and I recommend that this be given immediate attention. I would also recommend the purchase of 500 feet of new hose.

The horses at Station No. 2 have seen their best days and are on the down grade, which again brings up the matter of replacing them with the more modern and efficient motor fire truck and, as a matter of economy as well as efficiency, I would earnestly recommend that you give this matter your careful attention.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

This department consists of one chief of police, one acting chief of police and six regular patrolmen, the same as in many years past, and a condition which many times has been called to the attention of the officials of the city and the voters. I refer to the absolute need of a larger department. An extra man is worked as a special officer on regular duty during the summer months when the automobile traffic is heavy and he also works during the vacation time of the regular officers. For the last few months he has been working on the late shift, giving one police officer on the street and one in the station at all hours of the night with four men on the street during the evening.

I wish to refer briefly to the death of Patrolman Bert A. Barrett, who died in the service of his country at one of the training camps in the south. He was a splendid officer and a good soldier and the department suffers a loss in his death. His name was carried with the other patrolmen but with his death there is a vacancy in the list of regular patrolmen and I recommend the appointment of Special Officer Thomas C. Cauty, who has been doing regular duty since the departure of Mr. Barrett.

During the year 1918 there have been 113 arrests, the smallest number of arrests since the city became a city and one of the lowest records since the department was organized. Of this number 85 were for intoxication and 28 for other offenses. There were four females detained during the year and the others were males.

The city has been particularly free from any serious crime and due to the efficiency of the officers burglaries have been practically eliminated.

There are no recommendations to be made at this time with the exception of the need of another regular patrolman and the time-worn recommendation of the need of a motor ambulance and police patrol wagon. This has been recommended for several years back and naturally the need is still present.

The expenses of the police department for the year 1918 were as follows:

Pay roll	$7,228 47
Commissioner's salary	100 00
Telephone and signal service	186 99
Repairing clocks, lines and batteries	208 37
Repairing coats	27 00
Clock dials	30 41
Sundry expenses	52 76
Total	$7,833 90

In conclusion I wish to refer to the extra work done by the police department during the last few months, caused by the conditions brought about by the war. Hundreds of requests, orders and enquiries have been received by the department during the war and all have been investigated and reports made in every instance, where such was required.

GEO. E. CHALMERS,
Commissioner of Public Safety.

Report of the City Attorney

To the Honorable City Council:—

Your City Attorney respectfully submits the following report for the year 1918:—

The City has been able to settle amicably all trouble and disputes arising during the past year without the intervention of the Courts. The case of the City of Rutland vs. Michael Rooney, which, since our last report has been taken before the Supreme Court on appeal, has now been settled by compromise and agreement between the parties, and a favorable disposition of the matter thus secured.

Your City Attorney has, as in the past, co-operated with the collector of taxes, effecting the collection of the past overdue taxes from delinquents, and has assisted your Overseer of the Poor in securing care and treatment for several unfortunates in the Brattleboro Retreat, to be cared for at the expense of the State of Vermont.

It has also been my privilege to advise various officials of the City, in matters pertaining to their official duties, and to render them such assistance as the occasion required.

There are at the present time no matters pending in Court, aside from a few minor collection suits, in which the City is interested.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN S. DORSEY,
City Attorney.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to present herewith the report of the transactions of the Health Department for the year ending December 31st, 1918.

Samples of milk from the different distributors were taken and sent to the State Laboratory for examination twice during the year; once in June and again in December.

Out of forty-nine samples sent, seventeen complied with all the requirements while the others were either low in fats and solids or contained visible dirt.

WATER

Daily Tap Samples sent to the State Laboratory for examination were reported upon as follows:

No report received as yet for last half of December.

Three special inspections of the territory bordering the main streams which supply the City Reservoir were made during the year. On one of these trips I was accompanied by the late Dr. Charles S. Caverly, then President of the State Board of Health, and on one of them by Dr. C. F. Dalton, Secretary of the State Board of Health and Prof. J. W. Votey, Engineer of the State Board of Health.

Several samples of water were taken from different places and examination of same showed only one instance in which there was evidence of sewage bacteria.

I was summoned to view six bodies during the year, and after careful examination issued certificates as follows:

ELLEN B. CRAMTON, Treasurer.

I have examined the above accounts and find them correct

CORNELIA CHILDS PERKINS, Auditor.

Report of the President of the Board of School Commissioners

To His Honor, the Mayor, and the Citizens of Rutland:

For the second time I have the honor to tender you my report as President of the Board of School Commissioners. Conditions today are, happily, very different from those of a year ago. Our Country is at peace and this peace is a victorious one. Our soldiers are returning, and I hope the unusual conditions caused by the war will readjust themselves as speedily as possible. Our Schools have reason to be justly proud of the part they have taken in the so-called war enterprises. The subscriptions for Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps and Red Cross and United War Work made by the pupils of the public schools of Rutland, have shown that the boys and girls have been willing and glad to help in the cause of patriotism. Another $100 Liberty Bond has been placed in the hands of the School Board, in this instance to be devoted to the Polish Relief Fund. The Parent-Teacher Associations have been very active in garment work, and during the summer the High School has been used as a center for those interested in war work, including members of the Junior Red Cross. A knitting machine was installed and a course in first aid was conducted by Dr. Hodsdon. Miss Aitken, Matron of the Rutland City Hospital, also gave a course of lectures and demonstrations in domestic nursing. These courses were well attended and distinctly successful. Over $200 was turned over for this work from the proceeds of the Senior Play and the Baseball Fair.

FINANCE

I am pleased to state that the school finances are in admirable condition. This year our assets exceed our liabilities by $8,014.84 as against $2,483.74 in 1918, and the Board commences the present year with an unexpended balance of $3,810.84. We have asked for an appropriation for 1919, of 55 cents on the dollar on the Grand List. The citizens of Rutland, the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen have been most considerate of the School Board during the past two years and the extra 5 cents voted us has gone far toward saving the schools from an embarrassing financial situation.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Our school buildings are in fair condition considering the rigid economy in regard to repairs that has been exercised during the past year. The usual two per cent. for upkeep of school buildings has during the past year been cut in half. This had to be done in order to keep faith with the taxpayers. I do not think that the school plant has suffered materially and, with our finances in satisfactory condition, quite a good deal of repairing can very properly be done during the coming year. The School Board saw fit, at the commencement of the fall term, to close temporarily the School street and Gilrain Avenue buildings, thereby saving about $3,000 in fuel, teacher and janitor service and supplies. The teachers were assigned to other buildings and the pupils re-distributed. So far, this change has caused little complaint and unless there should be a very pronounced demand for re-opening these buildings, this action may be made permanent.

THE SCHOOLS

In spite of unsettled conditions due to the war and to the closing order made necessary by the epidemic of influenza in October our schools have maintained a high degree of excellence. When I hear the complaints from other towns and cities in the state, because of the difficulty encountered in obtaining teachers, I consider that Rutland has been particularly fortunate in having so few changes in the grade teaching force and in the High School faculty. The number of men teaching in our High School is especially gratifying to me and the system and harmony that now maintains among our High School teachers has made it possible for the School Board to comply with the request of the State Superintendent of Education, that Mr. Abbott be permitted to devote a portion of his time to the supervision of the Secondary Schools throughout the State. The State gains the services of an excellent teacher and organizer, while Rutland still retains his general oversight in High School affairs. The chief innovation in the curriculum of the High School for this year is the introduction of part time vocational work. Rutland is the third municipality in Vermont to avail itself of the provisions of the so-called Smith-Hughes Bill, and twenty-two boys are taking the course, which, aside from shop work, includes courses in History, English and Mechanical Drawing. So far the reports upon this course have been of a most encouraging nature. The department of Manual Training was reopened with the beginning of the winter term and is now being conducted for the benefit of the boys of the eighth and ninth grades. The Social and Athletic sides of school life have been properly emphasized and encouraged during the past year. The High School dances have been well patronized and the Senior Play was a great success from a dramatic as well as from a financial standpoint. In athletics the High School has been distinctly successful in each of the four major sports. That the educational, social and athletic advantages of our schools are recognized and sought after by the youth of the adjoining towns is, in my judgment, amply evidenced by the fact that in spite of unusual conditions, the sum of $3,332.50 was received for tuition during the past year. This very considerable sum represents tuitions from pupils in nineteen towns in Rutland, Addison, Windsor, Bennington and Windham Counties.

CONCLUSION

The deliberations of the Board during the past year have been most harmonious. The year has been a successful one and the Commissioners, Superintendent and Teachers have my most heartfelt thanks. And I am certain that their work has been fully appreciated by the citizens of Rutland. I regret the enforced absence of Mrs. Cramton from our meetings, and I extend my own and the Board's best wishes to Commissioner McCarthy in his work over-seas.

In conclusion I cannot refrain from reminding all connected with our public schools that we have an important role assigned us in connection with the social and economic readjustment that must, of necessity, follow the world conflict from which this country has but just emerged. Youths are returning to college and the boys to school who although young in years are old in experience. Our Country sent these young men to France to defend America and to make the world safe for peace. Many have felt the torture of hostile steel, many have suffered from disease, all have fought the great battle of liberty just as truly as did the heroes of the Revolution and the Civil War. Many have made the supreme sacrifice and never will return. But with them all, living or dead, we have made a solemn compact, a compact to do justice to them and to ourselves, to preserve to them the ideals and institutions for which they suffered, free from the taint of anarchy and lawlessness. God forbid that we should jeopardize all they have fought for by using the world's agonies for experiments in sociology or education. From the great beyond comes the warning of the dead:

"If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep."

And our public schools will play a large part in keeping or breaking that faith.

Respectfully,

HARVEY R. KINGSLEY,
President of the Board of School Commissioners.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the Board of School Commissioners and City Council of the City of Rutland:

In accordance with the regulations of your Honorable Board, and the requirements of the City Charter, I herewith present my thirteenth annual report of the schools of this city.

The statistical tables and other data formerly published as a basis of comparison, also the reports of the Principal of the High School and of the heads of the special departments, have been prepared as usual but by special direction of the Board will not be published in the city reports. The plan adopted last year seemed to be satisfactory to the patrons of the schools and resulted in greatly reducing the expense of printing.

The school enrollment, membership and attendance during the natural school year ending June 30th last were slightly smaller than during the preceding year altho a high percentage of attendance was maintained. The enrollment and membership for the present school year shows an increase over that of last year and this increase will doubtless be augmented as the economic conditions of our country become normal. The attendance for the present school year has been seriously affected by the recent epidemic but to an extent no greater than generally thruout the state and country. On October first all the schools of the city were closed by order of the city and state health officials and remained closed for five and four-fifths weeks, seven days of which have been made up by Saturday sessions and by shortening the Christmas vacation. At the date of writing this report the membership and the attendance in the schools have become normal.

CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS

During the summer vacation it became apparent that unless retrenchments were made somewhere in school expenses or unless the school receipts exceeded the estimates, the School Board would not be able to meet, without a deficit on December thirty-first, the advances already voted in salaries, the increased cost of fuel, text books and supplies, and the expense in making the usual repairs incident to keeping up the school plant. The School Board, seeing no possibility of increased school receipts, decided to restrict the purchase of school supplies, to limit repairs and to close the Gilrain Avenue and School Street Schools and assign the pupils of those schools to other buildings. The closing of these two buildings might be regarded as a "war measure" to reduce expenses; yet for several years past there have arisen serious doubts as to the advisability of continuing these schools. The Gilrain Avenue School is a rented one room building and the School Street Building is by far the poorest school structure in the city, considerably out of repair and defective in heating and ventilation. The decision of the Board to close these two buildings has aroused very little opposition and will result in a net saving to the city during a full school year of nearly $3,500 over the amount expended upon those schools two years ago. In view of the fact that these schools are located in sections of the city which largely patronize private schools, that the buildings are not in good repair, that the per capita cost of conducting up-to-date schools in either building would be high and that the pupils naturally attending those schools can be accommodated in other buildings with slight added expense, the wisdom of reopening either of these buildings for school purposes may be justly questioned.

FINANCES FOR 1918

The financial statement for the school year ending December 31st, 1918 made by the Finance Committee of the School Board and incorporated into the City Treasurer's report shows that the gross receipts for the support of the public schools in this city were $69,563.51. Of this amount $62,559.66 was realized from city taxes, $2,660.50 from the State, $3,332.50 from tuition, $608.35 from the sale of high school text books and the remainder $402.50 from incidentals, ground rent and unexpended balance of the previous year. The total expenditures were $65,752.67; of this amount $50,639.34 was paid for salaries, $908.89 for repairs on school buildings, $8,192.22 for fuel, light and power, $4,154.44 for text books and supplies, $945.98 for insurance on school property and $911.80 for rent, printing and advertising and sundries, leaving an unexpended balance in the Treasury of $3,810.84. An itemized statement of the assets and liabilities of the school department on December 31, 1918 filed with the City Treasurer showed that the assets which included cash balance in the Treasury, rebates from the State accrued but not due, fuel and supplies on hand aggregated $8,242.89, while the indebtedness aggregated $228.05 giving an excess in assets over liabilities of $8,014.84. A similar statement of the assets and liabilities on December 31, 1917 placed the assets over the liabilities at $2,483.74. This favorable financial showing was made possible by closing the Gilrain Avenue and School Street Buildings, by restricting the expense of text-books and supplies, by reducing the expense of repairs to less than one-fifth of the average for the preceding four years, by the closing of the schools for several weeks on account of the recent epidemic and by the extremely mild weather of the present season.

The favorable financial showing made above should not be interpreted as a permanent lowering of school expenses in this city, but rather as a result of unusual conditions which are not likely soon to recur. The expenditures last year were nearly twenty-five hundred dollars less than the average expenditures for the two preceding years notwithstanding higher salaries and greater cost in carrying on all kinds of business. The schools in this city cannot be conducted effectively the present year without larger expenditures. Only four-tenths of the recent increases in salaries were met in 1918; consequently those increases must be paid in 1919 on the basis of a full school year together with four-tenths of any additional increases. In view of the present purchasing value of the dollar further increases in salaries would seem just and in case of the High School it would seem imperative if its present efficient teaching force is to be retained. It is probable that at least four thousand dollars will be required this year to meet advances already made and to be made in salaries alone.

For the proper upkeep of the school plant an expenditure of at least $3,000 will be required in excess of the amount so expended last year, which would still be considerably less than the average expenditures for that purpose for the past four years.

With the return of peace and normal economic conditions we may look for the return to this city of many families that have been lured to larger industrial centers and many pupils who have left school for work will again return. Hence we may reasonably expect a considerable increase in the school attendance which may require the opening up next fall of one or more additional schools; there may also be a demand to reopen one or both of the school buildings recently closed. The Board would not be able to meet either of these demands without incurring considerable additional expense.

The report is current that the increase in the Grand List of the City, due to the Quadrennial Appraisal, would yield a school appropriation sufficient to take care of the increased expenditures. The report of the City Assessors, on file in the City Clerk's office, shows that the regular school tax of fifty cents upon the dollar of the new Grand List is likely to increase the school appropriation not more than $1,600, with the possibility of no increase at all. It would seem necessary, therefore, if the schools in this city are to be kept up to the present standard either to ask the city for an appropriation as large as that granted last year or to face a considerable deficit at the end of the present year.

The following table gives the tax rate for current school expenses for the years 1917 and 1918 and the percent to be asked for the present year, in the ten largest places in Vermont.

TEACHING FORCE AND SALARIES

Twenty-eight vacancies, more than half of which were in the High School, have occurred in our teaching force during the past twenty months. This is an unusual number of changes and considerable difficulty and expense were incurred in satisfactorily filling these positions. These changes were occasioned chiefly by the War, by sickness and by low salaries. During the present school year six grade teachers have been granted leave of absence, three on account of sickness and three to enter positions at more lucrative wages. While the salaries of all teachers and janitors were increased at the beginning of the present school year they are still low in comparison to the wages paid in other lines of work and to the high cost of living and do not bear a just proportion to the aggregate expenditures of the school department.

The demands upon teachers were never so great and exacting as at present and the purchasing value of the dollar has shrunk to that extent that the salaries today are relatively much lower than they were ten years ago. This matter should receive the thoughtful attention of the Board, and if possible, adjustments in salaries should be made so that teachers may receive a fair and just return for their labors and at the same time be able to improve themselves professionally and make some provision for support during the years of retirement.

PENSIONS

The policy of providing pensions for teachers is becoming very general in this country; thirty-four states and thirty-three separate municipalities have already adopted some system for retiring teachers.

These systems are based upon the principle not of reward or charity but of improvement of service, in that teachers freed from the risk of dependence due to age and disability would render more loyal, unselfish and continued service and also that teachers who have passed the period of usefulness would no longer encumber the profession. Every system of pensions should combine these qualities: definiteness in plan, security in fulfillment and adequacy in protection. The present pension system of Vermont is defective in that it cannot be put into effective operation for many years for lack of funds. The teachers of the State have repeatedly in their Conventions favored a pension system that might become operative at once. Conforming to their resolutions a bill is now before the State legislature, drawn in accordance with the recommendations of the report of the Carnegie Foundation on Pensions, approved by the best actuaries and capable of early and effective operation. The enactment of this measure would be a distinct addition to the school system of the State and may become a model for school pension systems in other states.

For the first time in the history of the City the voters will be asked at the annual meeting to vote upon the question—"Shall the Board of School Commissioners be authorized to grant a pension of $25 per month for the School Year beginning July 1, 1919 to a teacher in this city in accordance with Section No. 1218 of the General Laws of the State"—which provides for the pensioning of a teacher who has taught in the public schools for over thirty years. The teacher named in this article has taught in our public schools thirty-four years, during twenty years of which she acted as Principal of one of our grade buildings, and is now disqualified on account of sickness. The exemplary character, the long and faithful service and the extended and serious illness of this teacher should make a strong and favorable appeal to the voters of the city.

SPECIAL SCHOOLS

The School Board conducted a vocational school for conscripted men during eight weeks last Spring; the entire expense of this school was borne by the State. Continuation schools for High School and grade pupils were in session for four weeks during the summer vacation. The purpose of these schools is to make up deficiencies and place the pupils in regular standing in their classes. More than one hundred pupils availed themselves of this privilege and a large majority of those who regularly attended successfully worked off conditions and were passed to higher grades. The cost of conducting these schools is insignificant in comparison with the loss involved in so many pupils repeating a whole year's work; these schools are likewise of great value in holding in school pupils backward in studies and those necessarily irregular in attendance. / A public Evening School for foreigners is being conducted this winter by the Educational Committee of the Rutland Woman's Club, the School Board providing rooms, light, heat and janitor's service. This school has been more largely patronized this season than in past years and is accomplishing much good. The great War has emphasized the necessity of our government's taking greater interest in acquainting the foreigner with our language, institutions and ideals. No agency can render a greater service in attaining these desirable results than public evening and continuation schools. As the prime object of these schools is to make intelligent and loyal American citizens, every industrial community of the size of Rutland should by law be compelled to maintain such schools, and since the results of these schools are national, as well as local, the State and Nation should contribute largely to their support. /

HIGH SCHOOL

The High School has had a successful year altho the enrollment and attendance are slightly lower than one year ago. This decrease in numbers may be traced directly or indirectly to the War. The receipts from tuition and the number of towns patronizing the school were never so large as at present and with the return of peace we may expect a substantial increase in numbers. A course of industrial part-time shop and school work has been added to the curriculum. This course comes under provisions of the Smith-Hughes law and one half of the cost of instruction is borne by the State. It seems probable that in the near future still other courses, particularly in Household Economics and Agriculture, may be added and likewise be subsidized by the State.

It gives me pleasure to endorse the report of the Principal and to incorporate into this report some of his important suggestions, as follows:

"The past year has been very trying to school men everywhere. The higher cost of all things connected with school administration has made the problem of financing a school system very difficult, and has put the smaller school at a great disadvantage because the wealthier communities have been able to pay the increased wages that teachers have been compelled to ask for in order to meet their expenses. We have had our share in the loss of teachers, but perhaps have fared better in this regard than any other school in the state. By the employment of some teachers for part time we have been able to secure a higher grade of instruction than we could possibly have done if we had undertaken to meet the full salaries of these people."

"The policy of the school in one connection is to be highly commended. This is the attempt to have a considerable part of the instruction by men teachers; not that their work is necessarily any better than that of women teachers, or sometimes even as good, but young people of high school age need the influence of men in a great part of their work. I believe that we should aim to have our High School staff as nearly equal as possible in the number of men and the number of women. We have more men now on our staff than any other school in Vermont, and the results of this are quite evident in comparing the general tone of work in various schools. I hope that no effort will be spared to maintain or perhaps increase the number of men in our school as vacancies occur from time to time."

"It is too early as yet to estimate the failures of the school as compared with the two previous years, but all evidences at present would indicate something of a reduction in the number of failures over last year. The general tone of the work shows a quite decided improvement."

INDUSTRIAL COURSE

"The part time industrial course which the school board instituted at the beginning of this year is still in the experimental stage, and it is too early to make any very definite statement concerning it.

The twenty-two boys enrolled in the course are all interested in the work. The reports from the shops indicate that the shop-owners and foremen are well pleased with the work. In most cases the school work has been satisfactory. There is always a slight danger that boys may get the notion that their real education is to be had in the shop only, and that the school work is not vitally important. We have experienced something of this difficulty, but it has not yet become serious in many cases."

RECOMMENDATIONS

"1. Instruction in Agriculture."

"This school is the High School not only for the city of Rutland but for a large area of surrounding rural territory. We have had in the school during the past year students from over twenty different towns. A considerable number of students who are legal residents of Rutland should be classified as rural rather than city residents. If we are going to perform our best services for these surrounding towns and for these residents of the city whose natural inclination is toward the farm, it would seem advisable to me that we establish a course in agriculture in connection with the school."

"2. The working out of a definite salary schedule."

"Some plan whereby the teacher who has been loyal to the school and stuck by it through days of famine as well as days of plenty should not be penalized in matters of salary when new teachers are elected to the school. A maximum salary should be established. The teachers whose work is satisfactory enough so that they are retained at all, should be promoted regularly toward that salary. It is my judgment that at the time of the election of teachers an attempt should be made to adjust salaries so that they will be fair to all concerned, and as liberal as they can be made without injustice to the teachers of the elementary schools, and that when this salary has been decided the teacher should either accept it or reject it and that that should be the end of the matter."

"3. The continuation of the Industrial Course."

"An effort must be made to interest additional industries in the city particularly in this work if it is to be developed to the point where it will be of greatest service to the young men, to the industries, and to the city."

"4. An extension of our work in various fields covering particularly the work of pupils of different temperaments and needs requires considerably more space for the purpose of instruction than the old fashioned high school, and if we are to meet the complex demands that fall upon us we must begin to plan for larger accommodations for our students. When our method of articulation between the elementary school and the high school is properly readjusted and when we are offering the work that we must eventually offer to the young people of this community, we should have a high school enrollment of from seven hundred to eight hundred. I am confident that we can bring this about in the course of five or six years by proper management."

EDUCATIONAL TREND

If one compares the present program of studies in our High School with that of some dozen years ago one will be able to recognize the trend in secondary education.

Formerly emphasis was placed upon classical training; more than half of our high school pupils took Latin and a large number took Greek. The chief end sought in mathematics was ability to meet college requirements; oral reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic and grammar were not taught, because college credits were not given in these subjects; music, art, elocution, manual training, domestic science, industrial and vocational courses found no place on the program; the recitation was made prominent; the text-book was practically the entire equipment for the student and the school-room. Under such conditions the chief requirement of a high school building was to furnish the requisite number of recitation rooms with sufficient seating capacity.

Since that time the program of the school has been enriched; the building has been enlarged and an attempt made to modernize it, but as usually happens in the case of a building constructed by piecemeal through half a century it has been only partially successful.

The enrichment of the course of study, the swing from the recitation to the laboratory method of instruction, the increased enrollment, and the demand for more room in handling an up-to-date school, have taxed the capacity of the present building to an extent equal to that which existed before it was enlarged. Therefore, the problem of still further increasing accommodations for the high school will confront the school officials and the taxpayers of the city at no distant day.

Another problem closely related to the above is the necessity of bringing the elementary and high school grades into closer relation. A Junior High School would admirably meet this condition, at the same time eliminate our archaic ninth grade and save a whole year in the school life of the child. The chief obstacle in establishing at once such a school in Rutland is the lack of a suitable building. The solution of this problem may be in the erection in the near future of a modern senior high school building and in establishing a Junior High School in the present high school structure.

CONCLUSION

In closing this report I wish again to make hearty acknowledgment of the unfailing courtesy, good will and assistance so generously extended to me during the past year by all with whom I have been associated.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID B. LOCKE,
Superintendent of Schools.

Rutland, Vermont, February 15, 1919.

Auditors' Report

To the Honorable City Council:

We have verified the notes, bonds, deposit books and other securities belonging to the City in the hands of the City Treasurer, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find the same correct. We have also examined the accounts of the City Treasurer, City Clerk, Overseer of the Poor, Superintendent of Schools, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find that all moneys received by them have been duly accounted for, and they have proper vouchers for all moneys expended.

We also find that the records of disbursement as shown by the City Clerk agree with the entries shown on the Treasurer's book.

We would mention that we found the various books and records in all departments in good order, and vouchers for all disbursements were produced.

We have examined the tax books in the City Constable's hands and find that apparently he has paid into the treasury all moneys he has collected. The total amount of uncollected taxes is $4,986.00; of this amount $4,040.34 is for the years 1917-1918. We recommend that the old balances should either be collected, or abated if they are not collectible.

We suggest that it would be advisable to have all taxes collected and paid into the treasury within two years from the date they are given the Constable for collection.

JAKE HEYMAN,
ROBERT D. SMITH,
W. T. SIMONDS,

Auditors of the City of Rutland.

Report of the Mayor

Dec. 31, 1919.

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I hereby submit my first annual report as Mayor of the City of Rutland for the year ending December 31, 1919, for your consideration.

It has been my endeavor, working with the members of the City Council, to conduct the affairs of our city for the best interests of the people we represent. The reports of the City Treasurer and Commissioner of Public Works are most gratifying to me and I trust will be to the people of Rutland, especially at a time when the prices of material, labor and everything that enters into the cost of the work are so high. We have been able to close the accounts for the year ending December 31, 1919, with a cash balance in our general account of $11,385.59. Only for a temporary loan of $14,000.00 from our Water Department for the purchase of the Armory site, our cash on hand in this department would show a balance of $26,156.09, in place of $12,156.09. This loan will be paid back from a bond issue the coming year.

We also have paid out of the general fund $11,000.00 for the new Fire Truck this last year. The State of Vermont appropriated the sum of $1000.00 for permanent work on the highways leading into the city. This money we did not use, so the matter was taken up with Mr. Bates to see if it could not be carried over into next year's account. This he said he would do, provided the city set aside an equal amount from this year's street account. This we have done and have 511.19 to the good, after setting aside the $1000.00, as our street account shows a balance of $1,511.19.

We have reduced the bonded indebtedness of our city $24,252.95, making the net bonded indebtedness $207,783.42.

The tax rate of the city of Rutland is $2.20, while in reality our tax is $1.80, the same as before the war, the extra 40% going to the State. I doubt if many people realize how much the City of Rutland pays to the State of Vermont. For your information I would say, the city has paid to the State this last year in round figures $64,000.00, a lot of money over which we have no control. The cause for the additional appropriation in the Police and Fire Departments was due to the increase in salaries and the purchase of the new Fire Truck, after the budget was made up at the beginning of the year, January 1, 1919.

I am not going into any details of the receipts or expenditures of the various departments, as they will be shown by the report of your Treasurer.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

In this department I would say that we have not done all that we would like to have done, but we tried to accomplish what we could with the money we have had to do with. We have not done any real permanent work on our streets, but have done what we could in the way of resurfacing, smoothing and patching of our streets, which has improved them and with proper attention each year ought to go for some time, or until we can afford to do more permanent work. We have tried to divide up this work in the different parts of the city as best we could. We have not been able to do work on as many streets or sidewalks as we would like to have done, as our finances would not permit this. We are in hopes to get to some of this work the coming year.

I feel that the work that has been done on a whole has been quite satisfactory, and that the patrol system that was started this year has worked out fairly well and that we shall be able to accomplish much more with this system the coming year, as we have been hindered in getting material for this work.

The work in this department was not started as early as we would like to have started it in the spring. It seemed to be the sentiment of the City Council and the Citizens that we engage an expert City Engineer from outside our city and appoint him to the offices of Commissioner of Public Works, City Engineer, Supt. of Streets and Sewers. After writing to a number of different cities and Engineering Departments in our country, we were able, through some letters of recommendation to secure the services of Mr. Donald D. Snyder of Albany, N. Y., who had had seven years' experience in that city under one of the best Engineers in the country. Mr. Snyder took up his work here in May. I think the people of Rutland will agree with me that we have the right man in the right place. He is very much interested in his work and likes the people of Rutland. And now that he has become better acquainted with the people and the conditions existing in our city during the few months that he has been here, he will be much more valuable to us the coming year. He is always open to suggestions and complaints, and if reported to him, I am sure he will try and attend to same if it be in his power to do so.

The report of Mr. Snyder will show for itself the work that has been done and the money expended, a report that every citizen should be proud of.

Mr. Snyder has suggested to me that we should fence in our property between Post and Spruce Streets that is used for storage and an addition be built on to the present building to give us more storage for our city tools and machinery, also that we have a space at one end of the building enclosed that may be heated for doing work on the roller during slack hours in the winter, so we can get the machines ready for use when spring opens. As it is now, we haven't any place for this work. The machines being used until late in the fall could be put away in much better condition. This, I think should be done. Another thing that has been suggested to me is that this city should build a two story building on the land owned by the city south of our City Hall building, to give more storage room for city supplies and tools. This is a good suggestion, but our funds may not permit this on account of the high cost of everything in the building line at present.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY.

We have been able to bring about in this department the purchase of another piece of modern motor driven fire apparatus, of the American La France Fire Engine Co. make with a motor driven pumping attachment. We have also added one more regular fireman to the force at Station No. 1. Our first motor driven combination Truck has been thoroughly overhauled and painted and is now in service at Station No. 2. The old horse stalls in this Station have been removed, a new hardwood floor laid, and a cement wash stand installed. This work was done by the men in the department. The horses, harnesses and one hose wagon have been sold and the old Fire Engine was turned in towards the new truck. The men in charge of the Police and Fire Departments under this head have performed their duties in a most efficient way and for the best interests of the city.

DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.

This department under the charge of Overseer Mr. John J. Hickey and Mrs. Hickey has been most creditably taken care of. There should be some much needed repairs made at the City Farm this coming year.

MEMORIAL HALL.

The building is in need of some repairs that should be made the coming year, also some electric lights installed in the large room on second floor. The City Council has voted to increase the appropriation to the Library Association for the coming year, something that was very much needed on account of increased expenses.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, I desire to express my appreciation to the Honorable City Council for their hearty cooperation in conducting the affairs of our city and for the good feeling that has existed all through the year.

I wish to thank the heads of the different departments as well as all the men connected with them for their assistance in conducting the city affairs.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES C. DUNN,
Mayor.

Commissioners of Sinking Fund.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Works

To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with the provisions of the City Charter, I beg to submit herewith the 11th annual report of the Commissioner of Public Works for the year ending December 31, 1919:

The cost of doing the work during the year just ended has been materially higher than ever before. Not only have materials and supplies advanced, but labor costs have increased about 20 per cent over last year, due mainly to the adoption of the eight hour day and increase in the cost of team hire.

Table No. 1 below shows, for the street department, the total number of hours of labor, the total number of hours of teams, the total cost of each and the average cost per hour, and the per cent increase for the years 1918 and 1919. It will be noted that, while the payroll was $671.91 more in 1919 than in 1918, the labor was less by 5954 hours and the teams by 2721 hours.

COMPARISON OF LABOR AND TEAM COSTS ON STREET DEPT.

Year	Total hrs. labor	Total cost labor	Av. cost per hr.	Total hrs. teams	Total cost teams	Av. cost per hr.	payroll Total

1919	47,367	17,065 87	0 36	8,992	5,775 01	0 642	23,214 01
Percentage increase, labor							21.6
Percentage increase, teams							11.5

Increase in cost for 1919 over 1918							4,013 99
Percentage increase							20.9

The sewer and water departments were affected to a proportional extent.

STREETS

So many of the main thoroughfares and business streets were in need of resurfacing that it was deemed best not to attempt any new construction this year, but to resurface and repair as large an area as possible with the funds available.

Table No. 2 shows the macadam roads that were resurfaced, the area of each in square yards, the cost per square yard and the total cost.

The total area of macadam resurfaced amounted to 66,398 square yards at an average cost of slightly less than 13½ cents per square yard.

The 3½ ton truck gave almost perfect service during the year. During the progress of the work on the Creek road, it regularly made eight trips a day, the average haul being about seven miles for the round trip. Before being laid up for the winter, it was thoroughly overhauled and painted and is in first-class condition.

In addition to the resurfacing, considerable patching was done with a cold asphalt repair cement. The results obtained warrant an even more extensive use of this material next year.

Those streets were oiled for which we received petitions. Due to a decrease in the price of oil, the cost of oiling was materially reduced this year over that of last year. The assessments were as follows; one oiling 1½ cents per square yard, two oilings, 3 cents per square yard; sprinkling with water 2 cents per square yard, and with Dustex 1 cent per square yard.

Tables Nos. 2 and 3 together show the cost of the work done in the street department.

SIDEWALKS

Petitions for sidewalk construction were rather slow in making their appearance, so that it was not until fall that any work to speak of was done. Notwithstanding the late start, however, new tar concrete walks were constructed to the value of $2154.99, of which the city paid $1106.66; resurfacing to the value of $364.08 of which the city paid $201.65; grading and filling to the value of $148.50 and miscellaneous $472.61 of which the city paid the total cost, making a total of $1929.42 expended by the city for sidewalks.

Tables Nos. 4, 5 and 6 show in greater detail the work in the sidewalk department.

SEWERS

New sewers were constructed in Highland avenue and Columbian avenue, and the sewer in East street, between Killington avenue and Terrill street replaced with larger pipe. A manhole and a handhole were constructed on the Highland avenue sewer, two manholes on the Columbian avenue sewer, and five manholes on the East street sewer, to provide easy access for cleaning, etc.

The excavation in Columbian avenue was extremely difficult owing to the presence of innumerable boulders, both large and small. Some blasting was necessary, but most of the boulders were hoisted out of the trench and carted to the dump.

The construction of the East street sewer presented a variety of difficulties, which, though not serious, were exasperating to say the least. Heavy and frequent rains, the necessity of pumping the sewage and storm water, the presence of ledge rock and also a 12 inch water main in close proximity to the sewer, so that blasting had to be done very carefully, delayed and hampered us to no small extent.

During the season, the sewers in Park, Howe, East and Madison streets became stopped, requiring excavation in each case. At Madison street it was necessary to uncover the sewer twice. A manhole has since been built at this point which will enable us to keep the sewer free without digging.

Various other stoppages were dislodged by the use of sewer rods.

Tables Nos. 7 and 8 show the cost of the work in the sewer department.

ENGINEERING

Lines and grades were given for the sewers, water mains and sidewalks constructed during the year and measurements and cross-sections taken in preparation for the work of the coming year. In addition, the records in the office are being re-arranged and re-indexed to make them more readily accessible.

There is a large amount of work that should be done to provide the number and kind of records that ought to be on file in this office. Such work will be accomplished as rapidly as circumstances permit.

WATER

The cost of maintenance and repair of the water distributing system was considerably less than in 1918, due to the mild winter of last year. There were no frozen mains, services or hydrants during 1919.

A total of 1642 feet of 6 inch and 100 feet of 2 inch mains were extended, two new hydrants set, two hydrants set in place of broken ones, six valves set on mains, and four set on hydrant branches during the year.

The tables below give in detail the work accomplished by this department and the cost.

I wish especially to call attention to the need of an adequate sized building at the Post street store yard, in which could be kept all the implements and machinery belonging to the city. Such a building should be heated and provided with a work room, so that the equipment could be overhauled, repaired and painted during the winter months.

Also, a substantial fence, similar to the one at the Standard Oil Co.'s plant, ought to be built around the yard. A great deal of pipe is broken and other damage done through lack of protection.

The street lines of the City need to be definitely determined and permanently marked on the ground. Very few of them are so marked, it being necessary in most instances to use markers on private property to locate the lines, which markers may or may not be right. In the future, it should be required, that, before a new street is accepted by the City, all corners be located on the ground by suitable monuments.

Existing water mains smaller than 6 inches in diameter should be replaced as rapidly as possible. There are also some mains and many services above the average frost line, entailing considerable expense for thawing. In 1918 that expense amounted to over $3000.00. An effort should be made to remedy this condition.

In closing this report, I wish to express my appreciation to the various city officials, and also to the employees of the different departments for their help and co-operation during the past season.

Respectfully submitted,

DONALD D. SNYDER,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Safety

To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit the annual report of the Fire and Police Departments for the year 1919.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Fire Department is made up of a chief engineer, a first assistant engineer, a second assistant engineer, seven regular firemen and fourteen call men.

The chief engineer, second assistant engineer and four regular men are at Station No. 1. The first assistant engineer and three regular men are at Station No. 2.

During the year the Department responded to 52 still alarms and 16 bell alarms, a total of 68, and the fire loss for the past year was remarkably low—less than $34,000, about $20,000 of which was damage to the Quinn building.

An invaluable addition was made during the year, when a triple combination pump, chemical and hose truck replaced the horses at Station No. 2, this equipment enabling the men from both stations to respond to all bell alarms.

The principal recommendation I have to make is the addition of a small car for the use of the Chief Engineer, which would not only be used in responding to alarms, but is needed to give the required attention to the fire alarm system and especially the boxes. Would also recommend the installation of a box at the corner of State and Hazel streets.

The expense of the department for 1919 is as follows:

POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Police Department consists of a Chief of Police, six regular patrolmen, and a number of special officers, one of whom has been employed on regular duty during the entire year.

The closing of the saloons has made a material falling off of arrests for intoxication for the latter half of the year, but the increasing automobile traffic has taxed the department to its fullest extent and the very few accidents occurring during the year reflect great credit on the efficiency of the department.

One additional regular man is absolutely necessary to take care of this growing traffic, and I would recommend the purchase of a motor cycle to enable the department to enforce the regulation in regard to speeding, almost an impossibility with the present equipment.

During the year there have been 133 arrests, 76 for intoxication and 57 for other offences, and 65 people have been given lodging.

The expense for the year 1919 is as follows:

Pay Roll	$8,136 02
Telephone and Signal Service	205 91
Repairs and Supplies	255 92
Commissioner's Salary (Chalmers, $100; Harri- son, $25)	125 00

Report of the City Attorney

To the Honorable City Council:

I submit herewith, a report of the business of the City Attorney for the year ending December 31, 1919.

During the biennial session of the General Assembly, the City Attorney appeared before the Committee on Corporations, in regard to certain bills then pending which had to do with the discontinuance of a part of the Railway system of the Rutland Railway, Light and Power Company. These bills were ultimately defeated, which resulted in the continuation of full service by the Power Company.

The City Attorney has been called upon to defend two suits in which the City of Rutland were defendant, viz: Charles Turner vs. City of Rutland, and B. S. Hyland; and Charles Turner vs. Harry B. Whittier, the former case being brought in the Court of Chancery, the latter in the Vermont Supreme Court, both of which cases are now pending.

The City Attorney has, upon two occasions, appeared before the Vermont Public Service Commission in regard to the matter of the consolidation of certain Electric Companies under the name of the Vermont Hydro-Electric Corporation.

The City Attorney has been called upon to prosecute during the past year, four criminal cases which have resulted in conviction in three instances.

During the year, several insane paupers have been removed to the Brattleboro Retreat for treatment, through the efforts of the Overseer of the Poor and the City Attorney. And the City relieved from further liability for their support and care.

The City Attorney was called upon to act as Counsel for a committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen, to investigate the Rutland Hospital, and acted with them in various conferences and hearings upon matters material to their investigation.

During the month of November, the City Council, through the City Attorney, instituted condemnation proceedings against the Vermont Hydro-Electric Corporation and H. Edward Dyer for the purpose of acquiring certain water rights and privileges on the north branch of Cold River to complete its water supply system. The City Attorney has been ably assisted in this matter by Walter S. Fenton, Esquire, of this city, and the matter is now pending in the courts.

The City Attorney has frequently assisted the City Constable and Overseer of the Poor in the collection and adjustment of taxes and other claims which the City has had against different persons and other Towns and Cities.

Throughout the year, the City Attorney has been called upon to advise or assist various committees from the Board of Aldermen and Officers of the City, and has always been glad to extend such advice and assistance as was in his power whenever called upon.

Respectfully submitted,

LEONARD F. WING,
City Attorney.

Report of the President of the Board of School Commissioners

To His Honor the Mayor and Citizens of Rutland:

For the third consecutive time it is my privilege, as President of the Board of School Commissioners, to report to you and briefly outline conditions as they exist in the Department of Education.

The year just ended has been a successful one, and successful under rather difficult conditions. Whenever a nation emerges from a great struggle there has to be a period of readjustment and this period is a trying one. Unsettled conditions are often discussed in the home and echoes of these discussions eventually reach the school room. It is at a time like this when the teaching profession comes into its own and for a good part of the day can, while practicing tolerance and moderation, never cease to preach the stability of American institutions.

I believe that Rutland is very fortunate in being comparatively free from those offenses that spring from unsettled social conditions coupled with all too settled socialistic ideas, offenses that have caused annoyance and alarm in municipalities but little larger than our own. And I attribute as one of the reasons for this satisfactory condition of things, the fact that our schools have during the past years enjoyed a large degree of stability. Think what it means to any municipality to have trusted employes, employes whose trustworthiness is evidenced by the length of their term of service. Few changes have taken place in the High School during the last five years, while our Graded Schools enjoy the services of fifteen teachers who have taught in Rutland for fifteen years or more and of thirteen teachers who have taught over twenty years. The knowledge of human nature, the power of self command, and the full appreciation of local conditions and ideals that those years represent are, I feel certain, standing our City in good stead at present.

FINANCES

If the year from an educational standpoint has been satisfactory, from a financial standpoint it has been equally so. The report of the Finance Committee has already been printed and in it you will note that fuel and lights, supplies, text books, everything necessary for the maintenance of the school system has advanced in cost over the high prices of a year ago and our balance $1686.40 represents money actually on hand after the payment of all outstanding bills for 1919. The fact that the receipts for tuitions are $600 greater than similar receipts for 1918 is a fair indication of the way in which our schools are regarded in the neighboring towns.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The amount of $3595.50 expended for repairs during the past year is large and necessarily so. Since 1916 very little has been spent upon repairs and the expenditures this year were absolutely necessary. The larger items consist of $905.49 for installing new furnaces in the Watkins Avenue building, $832.89 for increased radiation at the Lincoln Building, $409.91 for improving the toilets at the Dana school, much of which was new work, and $1078.42 for increased radiation in the rooms and stacks at the High school. This High school problem has tried the patience and taxed the exchequer of previous School Boards. But I believe the conditions are now satisfactory, and I congratulate the Building Committee upon having solved the difficulty. Repairs may have to be made to the boilers at Dana school and to the toilets and gutters in the Lincoln building; outside of these items the School buildings are in good condition. I can see no reason for the School Board retaining the School street building. The great majority of the children in that neighborhood attend the Parochial schools, and those who do not are easily accommodated at the Madison, Longfellow and Kingsley buildings. The real estate is valuable but it would cost nearly $3000 to put the building in condition for school use. I would respectfully recommend that the insurance upon this building be cancelled and the property turned over to the city.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

The High school registration, this year, is the largest in the history of our schools. At the opening of the fall term there were 467 pupils registered and this number increased to 480. At present the High school registration is 450. Before school opened the principal of the High school asked the School Board for one more teacher. The Teachers' Committee did not report favorably upon this recommendation and, in doing so, were, as I am informed, actuated by the belief that conditions would remedy themselves, as in past years, by the dropping out of a considerable number of students before the end of the fall term. From the figures that I have just quoted it is apparent that this expectation has not been realized. Conditions are very much congested and there are three teachers in the English Department who meet, on an average, 150 pupils daily or 750 pupils during the week. This condition is simply impossible, it allows too little time for the teacher to devote to each pupil and, in conjunction with outside work such as study for the following day, correction of themes, preparation and correction of tests and examinations, puts an amount of work upon a teacher that would not be tolerated in other cities. I respectfully recommend that an additional teacher be secured for the High school for the balance of the school year.

This is the second year of Vocational Training in the High school and the course seems to be giving general satisfaction. Twenty-one boys are taking the course and are learning practical work in our local industrial plants. At least a dozen more boys could readily find part time employment if they were taking this course.

I regret that the course in Manual Training for boys in the grades has been allowed to lapse. This course was commenced in a small way, but a few years ago, 24 work benches were constructed and equipped with full sets of tools and about $1500 worth of machinery installed. For several years the course was very successful and the exhibits of work done by the pupils always excited most favorable comment. We still have the benches, the tools, the machinery and the children, but the teacher is lacking. The whole affair savours of what the political economist would term "economic waste." In my judgment the course should be put back to the status that it occupied three or four years ago, or the equipment sold, the rooms formerly used devoted to some other purpose and the course relegated to that oblivion that awaits so many educational experiments that are abandoned upon the very threshold of success.

A complete set of china should be purchased for the cooking school, and a large mirror furnished for the benefit of the classes in sewing at the Dana building. A cracked pitcher and a totally inadequate supply of table china do not accord with my bachelor ideas of good housekeeping and, in a course that exploits the "making and fashioning of garments," a mirror is a necessary adjunct,—at least I am so informed. I make these comments in all seriousness, I believe thoroughly in these courses in domestic science and home economics and I want to see them amply provided with whatever is essential to their success.

The social and athletic activities of the schools have, as formerly, been properly encouraged and carefully supervised. Schools throughout the country are laying greater stress each year upon these important phases of school life. I believe that it is a wise policy and hope that student activities will continue to be encouraged and emphasized in our local schools.

TEACHERS' SALARIES

Early in December, at the request of the Rutland Teachers' Association, I appointed a committee to examine into and report upon the salaries, living and working conditions of the teachers in the schools of Rutland. This committee has reported and at the proper time the Board of School Commissioners will doubtless determine what action, if any, they will take in order to bring the findings of this Committee to the attention of the taxpayers for action. It would hardly be proper for me to discuss this report but I cannot refrain from saying a word or two upon the general subject of salaries now being paid to our public school teachers. This question, I may add, is not being discussed in Rutland alone, it is being agitated all over this country, and is, today, the biggest question with which any person interested in the public schools has to deal. I assume that a large majority of those who are taking the trouble to read this report have at some time in their lives attended the Rutland schools, many of them, today, have children attending these schools, I expect that they are alive to the defects and I hope that they are not unappreciative of the good results accomplished by our schools. Over 2100 children are registered and they are being educated at an average cost of $40 a year per pupil. When parents willingly pay from $800 to $1500 a year in order that their children may enjoy the environment, social advantages, acquaintances and specialized college preparation of a private school, I submit that the cost of public school education in Rutland is not excessive, especially in view of the fact that statistics compiled at Harvard and Yale Universities show that, after the middle of the Sophomore year, students educated in public schools show scholastic ability superior to that of their classmates who are more gently and more expensively educated. Doubtless all my readers are only too familiar with the great increase that has taken place in the cost of living during the past four years. The Committee referred to has found that the salaries of 45 of our 62 teachers average $697 a year and out of this $697 they have to clothe themselves, pay carfare, pay rent and board or if they live at home contribute toward the expenses of the household, buy books and educational periodicals, contribute to charity, in other words live like other people, and, I ask CAN IT BE DONE? The answer is NO. These teachers average a loss of $32 a year, a fairly high price to pay for the privilege of teaching. At present several of our school janitors are getting larger salaries than teachers who have been in our employ over twenty years. "At the present rate of teachers' salaries," to quote the Chicago Trade Survey "the average teacher will have to live to be 70 before her total earnings are as much as a laborer can make by the time he is 40." And I fear that a Vermont school teacher will become a centenarian before he or she arrives at this peak of worldly prosperity. And what will be the inevitable result if conditions are not improved? Over 145,000 teachers have abandoned this profession during the past year to seek more remunerative employment. Over 2787 teachers are employed in Vermont, and, today, only 210 are taking Normal School or Teacher Training Courses and our Normal Schools cease to exist in August 1920! The teachers of Rutland have not threatened any coercive measures, they have not thought of striking, they have been loyal, splendidly loyal,—I know of several teachers who have remained in Rutland in spite of more tempting offers to go elsewhere; but what will happen if any considerable number of our teachers decide that, after years of service, humiliating economics and starvation wages are all the recognition that their loyalty receives? Where will we look for others to fill their places?

I have taken some time to try and point out that the expense for education in Rutland is not high, that our educational offerings are on a par with those of other public school systems, that the loyalty of our teaching force is unquestioned and that, in spite of this fact, they are pitifully underpaid. If I have made out a case I believe that Rutland's taxpayers will at our March meeting register their appreciation in a form more substantial than mere verbal eulogies.

I may seem to be an optimist, I admit it. My faith in human nature and in our public school system is stronger than it was sixteen years ago. If I should serve for another sixteen years as School Commissioner, which heaven forbid, I expect that I shall be twice as optimistic as I am now.

Respectfully,

HARVEY R. KINGSLEY,

President of Board of School Commissioners.

Rutland, Vt., January 29, 1920.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the Board of School Commissioners and City Council of the City of Rutland:

In accordance with the regulations of your honorable board, and the requirements of the city charter, I herewith present my fourteenth annual report of the schools of this city.

The statistical tables and other data formerly published as a basis of comparison, also the reports of the Principal of the High School and of the heads of the special departments, have been prepared as usual but by special direction of the Board will not be published in the city reports. This plan, adopted some years since, seems to be satisfactory to the patrons of the schools and results in greatly reducing the expense of printing.

The school enrollment, membership and attendance for the natural school year ending June 30, 1918, were all smaller than for the several preceding years and these decreases continued during the Fall Term of 1918, due almost wholly to the prevalence of the epidemic of a year ago. Since January, 1919, the enrollment, membership and attendance in the schools as well as the school census show continued gains and are now greater than at any time during the past three years. The percent of attendance to membership, while not so large as in some years in the past, is now most satisfactory and considerably exceeds the general average in Vermont and in New England.

NEW SCHOOLS NEEDED.

The decrease in school attendance in 1918 and 1919 coupled with the necessity of conducting the schools with the strictest economy enabled the School Board to assign the pupils formerly attending the Gilrain Avenue and School Street schools to other buildings and, by opening up two additional rooms, to close the two former buildings, thus saving rent, fuel, repairs and services of two janitors and three teachers.

If the present increase in school attendance continues it will become necessary to open one or two additional schools next Fall and the need of such schools will be the greatest in wards six and seven. To meet these demands the Board has one unoccupied room in the Lincoln Building, too remote to be of real service, an unfinished room on the third floor of the Kingsley Building and the old School Street Building, considerably out of repair.

I recommend that the Board give early consideration to this problem so that there may be ample time to secure proper accommodations for such additional school or schools prior to the opening of the Fall Term.

FINANCES FOR 1919.

The Financial Statement for the school year ending December 31st, 1919, made by the Finance Committee of the School Board and incorporated into the City Treasurer's report, shows that the gross receipts for the support of the public schools in this city were $78,701.39. Of this amount $66,466.69 was realized from city taxes, $3,224.73 from the State, $3,954.50 from tuition, $1,055.25 from the sale of high school text books, $189.38 from incidentals and ground rent, and $3,810.84 unexpended balance of the previous year. The total expenditures were $77,014.99. Of this amount $57,790.85 was paid for salaries, $3,593.50 for repairs on school buildings, $8,446.75 for fuel, light and power, $5,189.53 for text books and supplies, $1,068.90 for insurance, rent, printing and advertising, $925.46 for sundries, leaving an unexpended balance in the Treasury of $1,686.40. An itemized statement of the assets and liabilities of the school department on December 31, 1919, filed with the City Treasurer, showed that the assets, which included cash balance in the Treasury, rebates from the state accrued but not due, fuel and supplies on hand, aggregated $7,381.94, while the indebtedness aggregated $138.55, giving an excess in assets over liabilities of $7,243.39. A similar statement of the assets and liabilities of December 31, 1918, placed the assets over the liabilities $8,014.84. If this summary be compared with that given in my report of last year it will be seen that the gross receipts increased $9,137.88 and the gross expenditures increased $11,262.32, while the statement of estimated assets and liabilities of the school department filed with the City Treasurer remained nearly the same. The increased receipts were derived chiefly from city taxes, tuition, state rebates, the sale of High School text books and unexpended balance of the previous year, and the greater expenditures were caused by increases in salaries and in the cost of repairs, text books and supplies.

FINANCES FOR 1920.

The maintenance of the public schools is the greatest single expense that any municipality has to face and the one expense most willingly and generously met by its citizens. This problem of financing the schools, great under normal conditions, becomes more and more perplexing in times like the present. The higher salaries, higher cost of repairs and supplies of all kinds cannot be met by the low tax rate of former years. While the financial showing of the past year is good, due to the surplus of the previous year and to the fact that increases in salaries already granted have been met only for a part of the present year, it is very obvious that if the present rate of expenditures is continued, and the school tax remains as at present, the school expenditures for the present fiscal year will exceed the probable school receipts by more than $5000, and I am unable to see how such a deficit at the close of the year can be avoided except by increasing the present tax rate for schools.

Again, the teachers and janitors are now asking the School Board for substantial increases in salaries and their request appears to me reasonable and just. These employees of the city, more than seventy in number, are at present receiving salaries in no way commensurate with their worth and with the salaries paid in other lines of service. This condition is not peculiar to Rutland, but a nation-wide movement. The justness of the claim for higher salaries for teachers in Vermont was recognized and endorsed at a joint meeting recently held in Burlington of the State Board of Education and some two hundred and fifty school directors of the state when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

1. Whereas the salaries of teachers have been depreciated more than one-half by reason of the decline in the purchasing value of the dollar and

2. the larger wages and opportunities offered by industries have diverted many ambitious young persons from the teaching profession and have also attracted many who were employed in the schools so that there now exists a great scarcity of teachers and

3. the welfare of the State and the preservation of Americanization depends in a large measure upon the character of our schools and

4. as there is need that the teachers be assisted in their worthy efforts to reach a higher degree of efficiency,

BE IT RESOLVED:

1. That a real crisis exists in our public school system that threatens a breakdown of our schools.

2. That it is imperative that effective measures be promptly taken to prevent disaster.

3. That it is essential to provide salaries for our teachers which will decently support them, relieve their unrest and encourage their continuing in the profession of teaching and promote a respect for the calling that will assure a continued supply of capable teachers for the future.

4. That there should be a general increase in salaries of teachers throughout the State of at least 50% of salaries as they existed in 1916 before the United States entered the war.

In response to a request of the Rutland Teachers' Association the President of the Rutland School Board appointed a special committee, headed by the Mayor of the City, to investigate salaries, living and working conditions of teachers in this city. This special committee has made its report to the School Board, in which it is unanimously recommended that an increase of practically $300 be made to the salary at present paid each teacher in this city.

In view of these demands for higher salaries and to provide funds to meet increases in the general expenses of the schools, including the opening of one or more additional rooms, the School Board has unanimously voted to ask the citizens of Rutland for a substantial increase in the school tax for the present year. While this new tax rate for schools may appear high, it should be borne in mind that the increases in salaries asked for are no greater than those now being granted elsewhere in the state and the tax rate for schools would still be low compared with that to be asked for in other important towns of Vermont.

The following table gives the tax rate for current school expenses for the years 1917, 1918 and 1919, and the percent to be asked for the present year, in the ten largest places in Vermont.

TEACHING FORCE.

Since writing my last report two of our most respected teachers have passed away—one had taught in this city for thirty-four years, the other for twenty-three; both have been for many years principals of grade buildings; both were women of high ideals and of sterling character; both were devoted to their work and were universally loved and honored by their pupils and by the entire community. Resolutions adopted by the Rutland Teachers' Association show the esteem in which they were held by their fellow teachers.

The "Silent Messenger" has entered the ranks of the Rutland Teachers' Association and taken our beloved co-worker, Rose C. Carrigan, one of the oldest in service, and most respected of our teachers.

She has lived her life of service faithfully and earnestly and her name will ever awaken a throb of remembrance and appreciation in the hearts of all who came under her sway.

She will be missed by many, and our Association has lost a loyal worker and a staunch member.

"We know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air;
We only know we cannot drift
Beyond His love and care."

Once again the Angel of the Lord has entered our ranks and Bessie M. Otis, whom we knew so well and loved so tenderly, has been called to her Heavenly Home; but ever and forever will sweet memory of her live in our hearts. No words are needed to tell of her deeds of loyalty and the manner in which she endeared herself to the whole community. Her loving, unselfish life, the ability that she manifested and the kind sympathy which she extended to others will always be remembered and appreciated by those who knew her well. By her death, our Association has lost a strong worker and a noble member.

"The veil is thin, which intervenes,
Rent by a passing breath,
That gives to me my own once more,
Forever, on a fairer shore,
And yet—you call it Death."

Eleven changes have occurred in the teaching force during the past year. Three teachers resigned to be married, two substitute teachers were replaced by regular teachers and six teachers resigned because of low salaries.

In my last report reference was made to the subject of salaries paid in Rutland and, since conditions that then existed have not materially changed and what I then said is equally applicable now, I quote from that report as follows: "While the salaries of all teachers and janitors were increased at the beginning of the present school year they are still low in comparison with the wages paid in other lines of work and to the high cost of living and do not bear a just proportion to the aggregate expenditures of the school department."

"The demands upon teachers were never so great and exacting as at present and the purchasing value of the dollar has shrunk to that extent that the salaries to-day are relatively much lower than they were ten years ago. This matter should receive the thoughtful attention of the Board and if possible adjustments in salaries should be made so that the teachers may receive a fair and just return for their labors and at the same time be able to improve themselves professionally and make some provision for support during the years of retirement."

TEACHERS' RETIREMENT SYSTEM.

The Vermont State Teachers' Retirement System went into operation July 1st, 1919. This law was enacted to provide for the retirement of teachers on account of age or disability with an annual allowance. The teacher contributes not exceeding five per cent of her salary, which amount is doubled by the State and placed at interest to the teacher's credit. The income of this amount with other contributions from the state and from the retirement association will provide a life annuity when the teacher retires. The system is voluntary, but forty-two of the teachers of this city have come under its provisions.

The law in many respects is a distinct advance over similar laws enacted in other states and is likely to become the model for future legislation on this subject. The question which should confront the teacher not already a member of the Retirement System is not whether she can afford to come, but rather whether she can afford not to come, under the provisions of this law.

At the last annual meeting of the city the citizens by a very large majority voted a pension of $25 per month to Rose C. Carrigan, but her death occurred before she entered into the benefits of that pension. The citizens at the next annual meeting will again be asked to vote upon the question: "Shall the Board of School Commissioners be authorized to grant a pension of $25 per month for one year beginning April 1st, 1920, to a teacher in this city in accordance with Section No. 1218 of the General Laws of the State which provides for the pensioning of a teacher who has taught in the public schools for over 30 years." The teacher named in this article has taught in the public schools of Vermont in excess of 32 years and in this city for 27 years, and during the greater part of her service in this city she acted as one of our grade principals. For two years she has been disqualified on account of sickness, and at present she is an inmate of a Sanitorium in this state. She was one of our most worthy teachers and I believe it most fitting that the voters of the city should recognize her service and her worth by granting her this pension.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The High School has had a successful year. The number of students in attendance, as well as the number of non-resident pupils and the amount of tuition collected, exceed all previous records. The instruction in all departments shows efficiency; the scope of work and the influence of the school is continually being enlarged to more fully meet the demands of the community and to render the greatest possible benefits to all its students. The per capita cost along with general advances in conducting all similar institutions has increased to that extent that it would seem proper to re-adjust the tuition rates so that non-resident pupils should bear a larger proportion of the expense of maintaining the school.

The Principal's report to me contains so many points of vital interest not only to the patrons but also to the management of the school that I quote from his report as follows:—

“The building is in better shape than at any previous time. Most of the problems of heating and ventilating have been solved. There is still a lack of air control in the rooms of the new part of the building.

EQUIPMENT.

Several items have been added to the equipment of the school the past year; a new balance for Chemistry, dishes and mirror for Domestic Science, and some reference books. A teachers' professional library has been started and should be increased as fast as circumstances permit. The equipment for Science is very small and should be enlarged somewhat. If work in Manual Training is resumed next year some additional equipment will be needed. If classes continue large, the purchase of an opaque projector for use in English should be considered in order that compositions may be thrown on the screen and corrected by the classes and teacher. Entire classes would then get the benefit of the correction of each written paper.

Many of the typewriters are getting old and will have to be replaced soon.

The piano placed in the Assembly Hall by the Parent Teachers' Association has been a source of stimulation to better efforts in music.

INDUSTRIAL COURSE.

The part time Industrial Course is now working well. In spite of Federal Aid the cost per student is excessive. I feel that the boys taking this course are getting much more benefit than they would get from other work, and several have been enabled to stay in school who otherwise could not.

COMMERCIAL WORK.

We believe we are now getting a better product from our Commercial Department than before because we are getting a better selection of students, and giving practically all the commercial work in the last two years, where it will be fresh in practice when students leave school.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY WORK.

From the last three classes 57 students have entered regular college courses. All but four of these are still in college, and none of these four left because of failure. The majority of these are in Vermont colleges, but the list also includes Yale, Smith, Hamilton, Colgate, Holy Cross, Wellesley, Simmons, Columbia, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Harvard Dental School, Cornell, Dartmouth and some others.

GENERAL COURSE.

After providing for College Preparatory, Commercial, Industrial, and Domestic Science students, we have left a considerable number who are taking work to get the best general education the school can give, and another group who are in school simply because it is the socially correct thing to go to school rather than to do something else. Most of this trouble is traceable directly to parents who seem to believe that if their children can spend a few years under a high school roof they can always thereafter wear a white collar, and depend upon society to support them in a position of dignity and ease. All parents should realize that a student gets out of an education what he puts into it. The school can direct and encourage his work, but it is his work and not that of the school that gives him such an education as will fit him for a serviceable and remunerative place in society. It is the work done outside of school hours at home that makes the difference between success and failure.

TEACHER TRAINING COURSE.

The Teacher Training Course offers a systematic and thorough review of the common school subjects and gives training in the care and instruction of children. There is no better preparation for later home life than two or three years of teaching in a country school.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

This has been the hardest year in school in my experience as either student or teacher. The general unrest in industrial conditions has had a strong reflection in school work. Many students who were excused from school work for emergency war work have come to feel that if they could be excused for war work perhaps school work is not so important after all. Constant pressure has been needed to secure full attendance, and, moreover, when students see the fabulous prices paid for unskilled labor in comparison with those paid for skilled and educated labor, they question the need of further preparation for work. The teacher with a college training who is receiving considerably less pay than an alien enemy unskilled day laborer who cannot read or write is not in the most advantageous position to impress a boy with the necessity of faithful application to study.

The State Department of Education recommends that the average size of classes should not be over 25 and that in no case should the class exceed 30 in number. Based on the average membership for the first half year, 27 of our 50 classes in English, Latin, Mathematics, Science, French and History have exceeded 30 in number and five of them have exceeded 40.

The addition of another teacher in English for the second half of the year will relieve this strain somewhat. But if students are to get what they are entitled to, the size of the classes should be materially reduced.

The building is now taxed to its capacity. We have no room for further material increases in numbers, and if the School continues to grow, some provision will have to be made very soon to take care of the increases. The city must soon face squarely the necessity of additional high school facilities.

In spite of all these handicaps, I feel the general tone and spirit of the school are good. The percentage of failures at mid-years has been reduced from 19.8% for the school year of 1916-17 to 11.1% for the present half year. Serious failures and troubles in discipline are limited to some 25 students or 6% of the whole school. The social, athletic, musical and dramatic phases of school life are wholesome and well sustained. The introduction of compulsory physical training in the school has proved highly beneficial. The cooperation with the homes has been materially improved."

IMPROVEMENTS SUGGESTED

With the disturbed social and economic conditions and the ever growing demands upon the treasury during the last three years I have hesitated to recommend enlarging the scope of our public schools, in fact in many cases I have counseled retrenchments. With the return of normal conditions I would suggest improvements along these lines.

1. The surplus of text books and supplies has been exhausted, and from time to time this surplus should again be built up. It is impossible to conduct the schools economically and efficiently without a considerable surplus. The number of pupils per grade room, which now averages 40, should be reduced if possible to 35 per room to enable the teacher to give more individual attention to the pupil and to secure better results.

2. Last April the Board opened up part-time Kindergarten schools for all pupils of the city who would become eligible to attend school in the fall. While Kindergarten in name, these schools did much first grade work and aided greatly in enabling those pupils to make the first grade, where the number of failures is greatest in any school system. Some 80 pupils entered these classes which shows the favor in which these schools were held by the parents. I recommend that this policy be continued during the present year. The Medical Inspector has strongly recommended one ungraded school for sub-normal pupils and those greatly below grade and I heartily endorse this recommendation.

3. In our country there are more than thirty million people of foreign parentage. In the last selected draft more than 700,000 drafted men were unable to read or write. More than a dozen nationalities reside in our city and I ask you frankly what is the city doing to educate these illiterate foreigners above compulsory school age. School funds are denied them and until very recently the school houses have been closed against them. Education is the greatest safeguard to Republican institutions. Within twenty years after the close of the Franco-Prussian War France built 100,000 school houses and a distinguished French writer has said that these schools saved the life of the new Republic and made France the France of today. I recommend without reservation the establishment next year of public evening schools even tho it is necessary to maintain them out of the school funds.

4. During the present year Manual Training has been allowed to lapse largely for financial reasons. This course should at once be reestablished. For a number of years Sewing has been taught in the grades as well as in the High School but Cooking has been confined to the High School. In as much as more than one-half of our children never enter High School and less than one-half of those entering graduate, I believe that instruction in this important subject should be brought into the grades as early as possible.

5. In my former reports I have tried to show the advisability of establishing a Junior High School and eliminating from our system our ninth grade. More than 30 such schools are now in successful operation in this State. The greatest obstacle in accomplishing this result is the lack of school funds and a suitable building and it is probable that some time may elapse before these hindrances can be overcome. Until this desirable object can be attained I advise the consolidation in one building of our present ninth grades which would facilitate departmental instruction and better prepare those students to enter our High School.

6. The High School Building is now taxed to its capacity, and with further growth of the school the problem of accommodation will become serious. It is, therefore, probable that in the near future it will be necessary for the citizens to take some action in this matter. While we do not anticipate immediate action it would seem to me that the best solution of the problem would be to erect a new modern high school building and use the present structure for a Junior High School.

CONCLUSION.

In closing this report I wish again to make hearty acknowledgement of the unfailing courtesy, good will and assistance so generously extended to me during the past year by all with whom I have been associated.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID B. LOCKE,
Superintendent of Schools.

Rutland, Vermont, February 14, 1920.

Auditors' Report

To the Honorable City Council:—

We have verified the notes, bonds, deposit books and other securities belonging to the City in the hands of the City Treasurer, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find the same correct. We have also examined the accounts of the City Treasurer, City Clerk, Overseer of the Poor, Superintendent of Schools, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find that all moneys received by them have been duly accounted for, and they have proper vouchers for all moneys expended.

We also find that the records of disbursements as shown by the City Clerk and Superintendent of Schools agree with the entries shown on the Treasurer's book.

We would mention that we found the various books and records in all departments in good order, and vouchers for all disbursements were produced.

There are balances on the Treasurer's books showing uncollected taxes as far back as 1910, and while the earlier balances are small they should either be collected or charged off the books if they are not collectible.

Report of the Mayor

Dec. 31, 1920.

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I hereby submit, for your consideration, my second annual report as Mayor of the City of Rutland for the year ending Dec. 31, 1920.

It has been my endeavor, working with the members of the City Council, to conduct the affairs of our City for the best interests of the people and I have given a lot of time to this office.

Through the efforts of our City Treasurer in placing the new Armory and Street bonds at par, we saved the city some $5,700.00. Our bonded indebtedness, as you will see by our Treasurer's report, was increased $164,000.00, this being brought about by the Armory Bonds of $114,000.00 and the Street improvement bonds of $50,000.00, both of which were voted by the people and approved by the City Council. At the same time, we have reduced the bonded indebtedness as follows:

General appropriation to sinking fund	$8,000 00
School Bonds paid from general fund	2,000 00
Sinking fund earnings	15,784 11
	$25,784 11

This amount deducted from the $164,000.00 new bonds would leave the net new bonded indebtedness as $138,215.89. We were also able to close the year's business with a cash balance of $48,722.42 from our Armory and Street improvement bonds and a cash balance from the general accounts of $14,025.49.

I will not go into any detail of the receipts or expenditures of the different departments, as this is shown in the report of your Treasurer. You will notice in this report, that we are one of the cities, if not the only one, that has lived within our appropriation and has not overdrawn the amount we receive from our taxes. Our tax rate of $2.50 is the lowest of any city in Vermont, some places running as high as $5.40, the average tax rate of the cities and towns of Vermont being about $3.17.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

The past year has been one of the hardest years for any Mayor to accomplish anywhere near what he started out to do, with the shortage of labor and the high prices of material. I realize we haven't done a whole lot of what we had planned to do, but have tried to do all we could with the money we had to do with. The work on Wales and West Streets did not go along as fast as we would like to have seen it, but the contractors were not all to blame, as the labor trouble and material held them back. If they had been able to have gotten the material they expected to use on the West Street sewer, the work would have gone much faster and West Street would have been completed by Nov. 1st. The West Street sewer was an expensive piece of work, but, in the long run, it will be a great benefit to this section of our city as the old sewers were in worse condition than we expected to find them, besides being about one-half the size of the new sewers. We have tried to see that all the underground work was taken care of before laying the new pavement. I think the public will be well pleased with this pavement when the work is completed and cleaned up. This department, under the supervision of Mr. Snyder, has been well handled and a close account has been kept by him of all expenditures in this department.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

The men in charge of the Police and Fire Departments under this head have carried out the duties of their offices to the best of their ability. We had a little trouble in the Fire Department this last year, which inconvenienced us for a few days, but at this time, we are proud of this department and the men in charge.

DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

This department has been well looked after under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Hickey and the money well spent. There should be some needed repairs made on the buildings and heating system this coming year.

MEMORIAL HALL

As suggested last year, there should be some much needed repairs made on the inside and the steps outside this building. Doors and window frames need painting and varnishing and electric lights should be installed on the second floor. The City Council voted an appropriation to the Library of $4,000.00, an increase of $500.00.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, I desire to express my appreciation to the Honorable City Council for their co-operation in conducting the affairs of our city and the friendly relations that have existed during the year. To the heads of the different departments as well as the men connected with them, I extend my thanks for their assistance in conducting the affairs of our city.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES C. DUNN,

Mayor.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Works

To The Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with the provisions of the City Charter, I submit herewith the 12th annual report of the Commissioner of Public Works; for the year ending December 31, 1920:

The most important work undertaken during the past year was the paving of, and the reconstruction of sewers in West street, from Pine street to Wales street, and Wales street from West street to Strongs avenue. Bids were received March 22, 1920, from the Portland Construction Co., Inc., of Portland, Maine, and from Linberg and Street, of Boston, Mass. Prices were asked on vitrified brick on a concrete foundation, sheet asphalt on a concrete foundation, and reinforced concrete pavements. The prices for brick and asphalt were such that after careful consideration it was felt that the reinforced concrete was the most economical. Prices were also asked for monolithic concrete, reinforced concrete pipe, and segment block sewers. Segment block was chosen, not only because it was the cheapest but also on account of the rapidity with which it could be constructed.

On April 7, 1920, the contract was therefore awarded to Linberg and Street, whose bid was the lower, the gross amount of the contract based on the approximate quantities being $77,544.35, of which about $27,000 was for sewers.

The Contractors immediately ordered the sewer pipe and received assurances that it would be shipped at once. Hopes of receiving the pipe were entertained until the latter part of June, when we were advised by the manufacturers that they saw no prospects of obtaining cars. It was then decided to construct monolithic concrete sewers, which, although much slower, would allow the work to proceed.

Space does not permit of telling in detail of the obstacles encountered during the progress of the work. Labor conditions, together with unforeseen difficulties in the sewer, combined to prevent the completion of the pavement until the coming spring. Practically all the underground work has been completed and there remains only the pavement on West street from Merchants Row to Wales street and seventy feet of pavement on Wales street near Strongs avenue yet to be constructed, which will take about three weeks to do.

The routine work of the street department was of course affected by general conditions. As the funds have increased but very little, the work accomplished has decreased materially due to the mounting cost of everything. Last winter the cost of snow removal also ate into our appropriation to quite an extent.

In the sewer department, with the exception of the reconstruction of the Howe street sewer, the work was confined wholly to repairs to sewers and building and rebuilding catch basins. The old eight inch pipe in Howe street was replaced with 15 inch vitrified and 21 inch concrete pipe. One new man-hole was built on this line. The pipe for this sewer arrived just about three months after it had been ordered.

The water department was handicapped to no small extent by the labor shortage. The lowering of the main in Wales street together with the renewing of services in West and Wales streets and the routine work of repairing leaks, etc., taxed the capacity of the department many times to keep from delaying the work of paving. The work of lowering the main in Wales street was particularly slow and tedious, being in ledge rock practically the whole distance.

Besides the work above mentioned, a six inch main was laid in Bellevue avenue, north of North street for a distance of about 572 feet.

The department had hoped to improve the fire protection in Baxter and State streets and Cleveland avenue by enlarging the mains, but had to let it go over until next spring.

The engineering department has been kept busy giving lines and grades for sewers, curbing and pavement, measuring completed work and preparing monthly estimates for the work on West and Wales streets in addition to the regular work of this department.

The tables given below show in further detail the work accomplished by the various departments, together with the cost.

In concluding this report, it may not be out of place to say a few words relative to the program for the coming year.

In order to complete the improvement of West and Wales streets, new walks should be constructed. Cement concrete would probably cost about 35 cents per sq. ft., or $3.50 per foot frontage for a walk ten feet wide. If the abutting property owners would pay one-half the cost, I believe the City could pay the other half.

As to the paving, so far as the condition of the road itself is concerned, any one of several might well be chosen. In order to decide we must consider, then, other factors, such as connection with existing pavements, amount of underground work, length of pavement and amount of traffic benefitted.

Comparing the different streets and highways on the basis of the above factors, it is my opinion that the appropriation for 1921 will go further and be of greater benefit to the whole city if expended on Strongs avenue and South Main street to the City line, than on any other highway. It will be possible to build a 20 foot roadway from Madison street to the south city line, which will give us one main artery, well paved, from the city limits, to the heart of the business section.

Merchants Row, between the two stretches of brick pavement, should be completed with brick, but I believe a substantial saving in the cost can be effected by waiting until 1922, when, in all probability, Evelyn street and Grove street as far as State street can be done too.

Respectfully submitted,

DONALD D. SNYDER,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Safety

To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit the annual report of the Police and Fire Departments for the year 1920.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Police Department consists of the Chief of Police, seven regular patrolmen, one special doing regular duty and a number of special officers. The addition of one regular man has aided this department in caring for the ever increasing automobile traffic which was more congested this year, owing to the road construction on two of our busiest streets.

The Police Signal system which was installed a number of years ago will have to be replaced by a modern system in the near future as it is inadequate and is a growing source of expense owing to the frequent repairs needed.

During the year there have been 129 arrests, 55 for intoxication and 74 for all other offenses. Sixty-one people have been given lodgings.

The expense for the year is as follows:

Pay Roll	$10,340 72
Telephone and Signal Service	517 96
Repairs and Supplies	387 48
	$11,246 16

An inventory of the property and supplies on hand shows a total value of $973.25.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Fire Department is made up of the Chief Engineer, the first assistant engineer, the second assistant engineer, seven regular firemen and fifteen call men.

The chief engineer, first assistant and four firemen at Station No. 1. The second assistant engineer and three firemen at Station No. 2.

The Department was called out 72 times during the year, 45 telephone alarms, 23 bell alarms and 4 thermostat alarms.

The fire loss for the year was $48,050, $29,150 of which was caused by one fire, the Grimm Evaporator plant.

In May owing to a strike of the firemen of Station No. 1 the department was reorganized, seven new men being engaged, and our small fire loss reflects credit on the efficiency of the present department.

I would recommend the addition to the permanent force of one man for duty at Station No. 1, and would suggest that if this is done the number of call men be reduced.

At least two additional alarm boxes should be installed, one near the Dana School on East street and one near St. Peters on Meadow street.

The expense for maintaining the department for 1920 is as follows:

Pay Roll	$13,817 33
Fuel	650 14
Repairs	102 02
Supplies	197 42
Laundry	62 55
Telephone	18 10
Light and Power	148 11
Auto Supplies and Repairs	571 27
Insurance	100 00
Ground rent Station No. 2	18 00

New Equipment	863 97
Sundries	91 38
	$16,640 29

An inventory of the property and supplies on hand shows a total value of $39,026.80.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED C. ROBERTS,

Commissioner of Public Safety.

Report of City Attorney

To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:

I beg leave to submit herewith my report as City Attorney for the year ending December 31st, 1920. During the year it has been my pleasure and privilege to advise and assist various committees appointed by your Board and to give legal advice to the various Officials of the City.

I have also, in behalf of the City, instituted several suits for collection of taxes at the request of the City Constable.

During the past year, two suits in which the City of Rutland was the defendant, namely, Turner vs. City of Rutland and B. S. Hyland and Turner vs. Whittier, have been discontinued without cost or damage to the City. The City Attorney was also called upon to defend one other suit, Nichols & Barney vs. City of Rutland, which was returnable before the Rutland County Court and settled without trial.

The condemnation proceedings brought against the Vermont Hydro-Electric Corporation and H. E. Dyer for the purposes of acquiring certain water rights and privileges on the north branch of Cold River resulted in the acquiring by the City of the desired rights for a reasonable price.

The City Attorney has at various times appeared before the Public Service Commission of Vermont in matters in which the City was interested.

During the month of December of this year the City Council, feeling that the rates charged and service rendered by the Rutland Railway, Light & Power Company to the City of Rutland and its inhabitants were unfair and unjust, authorized the City Attorney, together with the Board of Finance, to take steps to investigate the electric and gas situation. This Committee has engaged competent technical assistance and is now in the course of an investigation.

Your Honorable Board authorized the City Attorney a few months past to compile and revise the City Ordinances, some of which were obsolete and non-operative. I have spent a great deal of time in conferences with City Officials and your Board and in considering the law in this work, which will be completed in the very near future.

Through the efforts of the Overseer of the Poor and the City Attorney, several insane paupers have been removed to the Brattleboro Retreat for treatment.

Respectfully submitted,

LEONARD F. WING,
City Attorney.

Report of Overseer of Poor

To the Honorable City Council:

I respectfully submit my report as Overseer of Poor for the year ending December 31st, 1920.

The cost of maintaining this department shows an increase over the preceding year, due chiefly to contagious diseases, the influx of indigent people, and the high cost of living.

While the cost of contagious diseases is, by law, chargeable to the general fund and is paid from said fund by other cities and towns in this state, this item alone has cost this department $936.83.

With every available tenement in the city occupied during the year, it is but natural to expect some indigent people, and from my observations based upon the conditions existing in this department, we have more of this element than ever before in the history of this city.

The same care has been exercised by me as in previous years. Every case brought to my attention has been properly cared for.

Report of the President of the Board of School Commissioners

To His Honor, the Mayor, and the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

As President of the School Board I respectfully submit for your consideration the customary annual report of the schools of this city. The supervision and management of our schools are to a large extent under the immediate charge and direction of the Superintendent of Schools, who has made a somewhat detailed account of the work during the past year, and of his report I ask your careful consideration.

FINANCES FOR 1920

The financial statement for the year ending December 31, 1920, made by the Finance Committee of the School Board, is attached to this report.

You will note that the gross receipts for the support of the public schools in this city during the past year have been $103,211.62. Of this amount $91,079.95 was realized from city taxes; $4,207.82 from the State; $4,433.50 from tuition; $1,686.40 unexpended balance of the previous year, and the remainder, $1,803.95, from other sources. The total expenditures were $103,168.31. Of this amount $82,437.55 was paid for salaries; $2,532.21 for text books; $4,197.46 for supplies; $2,836.20 for repairs; $9,020.35 for fuel and light, and $2,144.54 for sundries. The unexpended balance to the credit of the School Board December 31, 1920, was $43.31.

An itemized statement of the assets and liabilities of the School Board on December 31, 1920, as filed with the City Treasurer, shows that the cash balance in the treasury, fuel, text books and supplies on hand, and State rebates, accrued but not due, amounted to $5,886.36, and that the indebtedness on the same date amounted to $650.76, leaving an excess of assets over liabilities of $5,235.60. The increased receipts were derived almost wholly from the increase in the city appropriation authorized by the voters at their last annual meeting. This increase, as was indicated in the warning at the annual meeting, was designed chiefly to increase salaries, to meet the high cost of living and the higher cost of supplies and repairs. In accordance with the expressed wish of the voters, the School Board increased the salary of each member of the teaching force practically $300.00, and voted a corresponding increase to the janitors. The total paid for salaries during the past year was $24,646.70 in excess of the salaries paid the preceding year, which explains largely the excess of expenditures in 1920 over those of 1919.

The salaries paid by the School Board prior to increases granted last year were exceptionally low and out of proportion to the salaries paid in other lines of service, and to the high cost of living. The salaries at present are not in excess of those paid for similar service in Vermont and are decidedly lower than those paid in our adjoining states. To meet the increased expenditures last year the Board reduced its unexpended balance in the treasury some $1,600.00 and its other net assets $2,000.00. In other words, the current school expenditures for 1920 exceeded its current receipts by more than $3,600.00. On account of this deficit and the additional cost when the increases in salaries already granted are fully effective, together with other added expenses already authorized, the Board will not be able to conduct the schools during the present fiscal year without a still further advance in the school receipts. In addition to the above, the cost of fuel has greatly advanced since purchases were made early last spring, and the probable cost of fuel and light for 1921 will be considerably in excess of the amount paid last year. Again, the repairs on school buildings for several years have been much below normal although the amount so expended, due to the high cost of such repairs, would not indicate this. The school plant has been allowed for several years to deteriorate, and this deterioration should be checked and remedied at once—and this correction will involve a much larger expenditure on repairs for the present fiscal year than for several years past. The tax rate for schools in Rutland for several years has been considerably lower than that in the larger towns of Vermont, as the following table will indicate, and it is very evident to the School Board that if the schools in this city are to be kept to a high standard of efficiency and the school plant be not allowed to deteriorate further, the tax rate for schools in this city for the present year must be further increased.

CITY CHARTER

Section 200 of the City Charter limits the power of the Board of Aldermen to appropriate for the support of schools in excess of fifty cents on the dollar of the Grand List of the city unless authorized by the voters of the city to appropriate a larger amount. This provision of the Charter has not been changed since Rutland became a city. For the past four years the School Board has been obliged to ask the voters to authorize a higher tax rate for the schools, which has been granted. The School Board is now convinced that it will be impossible to properly conduct the schools in this city on the school tax rate established in the City Charter nearly thirty years ago, and has asked, with the unanimous approval of the Board of Aldermen, that this Section of the Charter be amended by raising the maximum tax rate for schools from fifty cents to eighty-five cents. This change would not mean that the school tax rate must be raised to eighty-five cents, but authorizes the Board of Aldermen to appropriate for the schools up to that limit without asking the voters annually to authorize such increase.

ENLARGEMENT OF SCHOOL PLANT

Some three years ago the school Board closed two of its smaller school buildings and assigned the scholars to other schools. These buildings were greatly out of repair and on account of the small enrollment, the per capita cost per pupil was excessive. This consolidation, effected more easily by the fact that the school enrollment during the war period decreased, resulted in temporarily keeping down school expenses. With the approach of normal economic conditions the school enrollment has steadily increased, and the schools in certain sections of the city are becoming congested. This congestion, without doubt, will become more marked during the present year and will demand the early consideration of the patrons of the schools and the taxpayers of the city.

Again, the trend of public education is changing. Scholars remain in school longer and a larger number enter high school and prepare for higher institutions of learning. The attendance in our High School has more than doubled during the last one and one-half decades. Junior High Schools have been instituted in forty-six cities and towns in Vermont and the matter of establishing a Junior High in Rutland has been discussed by various Rutland School Boards without any satisfactory conclusion being reached as to the advisability of adopting this system in Rutland. In any event, the school plant is not adequate to properly meet our present needs and the new conditions that confront us. The satisfactory solution will require the expenditure of a considerable sum of money and must have the support of patrons and citizens alike. I, therefore, recommend that a joint committee be appointed in the near future, representing the interests of the School Board and the Board of Aldermen, to investigate the whole subject of enlarging and improving the school plant, and to make its recommendations to the voters of the City.

MANUAL TRAINING

From the many requests I have received from parents, pupils and teachers, I strongly recommend the re-establishing of the teaching of manual training for boys in the grades. Equipment already on hand, with some outlay of money, could easily be put in condition so that this popular course could be properly conducted.

THE TEACHING FORCE

I wish to take this opportunity to express my own appreciation, and that of the Board of School Commissioners, of the faithful and efficient services of the entire teaching force. I have always found our teachers receptive to suggestions and advice as to anything conducive to the betterment of their profession. An innovation this year in the establishment of departmental work in three of the principal buildings proved that the teachers were ready and competent to make an educational success of this experiment.

I believe it has been noticeably evident this year that the teachers throughout the city have been zealous in their efforts toward the moral, as well as the educational uplift of their individual classes.

PHYSICAL WELFARE

The physical welfare of the pupils has been splendidly looked after by the school physician, Dr. Ray E. Smith, and by the Rutland Red Cross, through its representative, Miss Mary A. Devlin, whose untiring efforts in co-operation with the teachers have made her an indispensable adjunct of the school personnel. The value of her service and its results cannot be too highly commended.

CONCLUSION

I wish at this time to express to the members of the School Board my appreciation of the courtesy and assistance accorded me while presiding over their deliberations, and to the citizens generally for their liberal support of the public schools during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

BARTLEY J. COSTELLO,

President of the Board of School Commissioners.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the Board of School Commissioners and City Council of the City of Rutland:

In accordance with the regulations of your honorable board, and the requirements of the city charter, I herewith present my fifteenth annual report of the schools of this city.

The statistical tables and other data formerly published as a basis of comparison, also the reports of the Principal of the High School and of the heads of the special departments, have been prepared as usual but by special direction of the Board will not be published in the city reports. These reports will be printed in full as usual in the local dailies, the careful reading of which we commend to the patrons of the schools and the voters of the city.

The school enrollment, membership and attendance for the natural school year ending June 30, 1920, varied but little from similar data covering a period of several years, and would indicate that the school population of the city had remained nearly stationary for a considerable period of time. It is evident that during the past year there has been a steady growth in the school population of the city but this increase has to a large extent been absorbed by private schools and by a larger number of children who on account of the high cost of living and the large wages paid have withdrawn from the schools to enter other lines of work. The percentage of attendance to membership since the opening of the present school year has been exceptionally high, being excelled in few, if any, important towns in the state. This high percent has been effected by the absence of serious epidemics, by the watchful attention of the school health officials and by the services of a very efficient Truant Officer.

FINANCES

The President of the Board of School Commissioners has covered very fully the finances of the schools for the past fiscal year. The school receipts and expenditures were in excess of those of any previous year due almost wholly to the increase in salaries and the higher cost of fuel and supplies. From his report you will see that the current school receipts were not equal to the current expenditures last year, since the unexpended cash balance and other net assets to the credit of the school department were decreased nearly $4,000. The full effect of increases in salaries and additional expenses authorized by the Board were not fully effective in 1920, which together with increased cost of fuel and the necessary repairs on school buildings must necessarily call for a considerably larger expenditure for the schools in 1921 than during the past year. The school board has no means of meeting these increased expenses without a larger city appropriation for the schools. The school tax in Rutland for several years has been lower than in any other important town or city in the state and if the increase in the school appropriation asked for by the board is granted the school tax will still be low as compared with that in similar towns and cities of Vermont and of New England.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE SCHOOL PLANT

In my report of last year I called attention to the advisability of establishing a Junior High School and eliminating from our system the ninth grade. I also called attention to the fact that our High School building was taxed to its capacity. While these matters have been considered to some extent by the School Board no definite action has been taken and the conditions that existed one year ago have not materially changed. In giving up the Gilrain Avenue and the School Street schools and assigning the pupils in those buildings to other schools every class room in the city with one exception was occupied practically to its capacity. The policy of discontinuing schools in those two buildings temporarily kept down expenditures, thus saving the city several thousand dollars each year. Another important reason for closing those two buildings was the fact that both were greatly out of repair and the State Board of Health was urging the school officials to make repairs or discontinue those schools. The repairs called for would aggregate several thousand dollars and the fact that the city realized only $625 from the sale of the School Street building including its heating plant clearly showed the unwisdom of attempting to spend a large amount of money for repairs on such a structure.

Pressure was brought upon the board by local and state health officials to vacate the school room on the third floor of the Kingsley Building on the ground that this room was not properly ventilated and lighted and that the fire risk was great. The school board has yielded to this pressure and has recently vacated that room and assigned the pupils to other schools. An ungraded school was opened in the one remaining unoccupied school room in the city so that at present every regular school room is occupied and most of these rooms to capacity.

The problem of establishing a Junior High School and relieving the crowded condition in the High School remains unsolved. It appears very evident that with the return of normal economic conditions Rutland will materially increase in population, which will demand additional school accommodations. I, therefore, most heartily commend the suggestion of the President of the School Board that a joint committee be appointed in the near future to consider this whole matter of enlarging and improving the school plant. In my opinion a committee representing the interests of the School Board, the Board of Aldermen and other important organizations of the city interested in civic improvement, could study this whole matter of school accommodations from an unbiased standpoint and make a report to the voters of this city that would have weight and carry conviction and result in securing the relief needed. This problem ought not to be delayed longer as it is evident that additional schools in this city must be opened soon and such accommodations cannot be furnished in our present buildings.

DEPARTMENTAL WORK

The ninth grade was incorporated into the elementary school system some forty years ago for the purpose of better preparing children in the grades for the high school and at the same time to enable the high school pupil to do work equal to that done in the old-style academy and private school. The necessity for the ninth grade passed years ago and we now find that grade entirely absent in the best school systems west of the Hudson River and with very few exceptions in New England. It has been found that the work in this grade is so largely a review that the child loses interest and in a measure is marking time to complete the grammar course. At the same time the work has so greatly improved by the lengthening of the school year and by a more efficient teaching force that the high school graduates are now able to do work that corresponds to that done in the best private schools and academies; in fact the scholarship of the high school graduate now receives a higher rating in some colleges than that of scholars prepared in private schools. The School Board has indicated its purpose of eliminating the ninth grade in our system after the present school year. To aid in carrying out this purpose the course of study has been somewhat modified in all of the grammar grades and in three of the larger school buildings departmental work has been established. This has enabled the teachers in these schools to concentrate their time and energy upon the particular subject that they are best adapted to teach and at the same time to give that intensive instruction which makes the work of the school much more efficient. This plan appears to be working satisfactorily and is securing most favorable results in our system.

TEACHING FORCE

Thirteen vacancies in the teaching force, seven in the High School and six in the grades, have occurred during the past fiscal year. Two teachers resigned to be married, seven to accept teaching positions elsewhere, three to take up other lines of work and one on account of illness. Several other vacancies would have occurred had not salary adjustments been made. The number of changes, unusually large, involved much attention and considerable expense and tends to show that teachers are not desirous of retaining their positions unless salaries are commensurate with those paid elsewhere and in other lines of work. The state conducted a Summer School for teachers in this city during the summer vacation. Nearly all the grade teachers of the city attended. Teachers unable to secure instruction in courses which they most desired were allowed, with the approval of the Board, to receive the cost of tuition and traveling expenses in attending summer schools outside of the city.

One teacher seriously ill was granted a pension of $25 per month in accordance with vote of the citizens at their last annual meeting. This is the first instance of a public school teacher receiving a pension granted by the voters of a town or city in this state. We are glad to note that this teacher has recovered her health and no longer needs a pension. Forty-four of our teachers are now members of the Vermont Teachers' Retirement Association.

HEALTH INSPECTION

For several years the citizens have given their approval, by increased majorities, to Medical Inspection in the schools. A law recently passed continues Medical Inspection in towns which have so voted until the town votes otherwise. Health inspection of the children was never so effective as at present and this inspection extends to private as well as public schools. A school nurse is now employed for the full calendar year to assist the Medical Inspector and to follow up cases needing medical attention. The local branch of the Red Cross is endeavoring to supply milk to all school children wishing it, making special provision that children unable to pay shall receive the milk without charge. More than 1700 quarts of milk were distributed in the schools last month. A marked improvement in the health of many undernourished children is apparent. I wish to commend in highest terms the work that our Medical Inspector, School Nurse and the local branch of the Red Cross are doing in our schools.

HIGH SCHOOL

The High School has had a prosperous year under an exceptionally strong principal and teaching force. The enrollment, as well as the number of tuition pupils, the amount of tuition collected and the number of different towns patronizing the school are all the largest in its history. The Principal has made to me an able report of the work done, which as far as space will allow I incorporate into this report, as follows:

“After nearly five years of service in the school it is perhaps not out of place for me to bring to your attention some of the things that have been done during that period:

1. The most important development in the school has been in the line of democracy. Five years ago the lines of social cleavage appeared very closely drawn, and the line between classical and commercial departments much more so. After a good deal of struggle, more difficult because it could not be brought to public attention, we have practically eliminated this condition. I do not believe any student in school at the present time can truthfully say that he is discriminated against or made to feel inferiority.

2. The Commercial Department has been entirely overhauled. We are now doing in the last two years of the course all of the commercial work that formerly took the most of the time of four years. The course is not cluttered with those students who are hopelessly incompetent, and students who really have ability and interest are not held back in their work by a large number of such students. * * *

3. We have made considerable progress in Music. We now have a rather large number of students taking Music under approved teachers, following in general the suggestions of the course we have adopted, and taking examinations each Spring. These students are receiving credit for this work as for their work done in school. It is now possible for a student to receive about one-fourth of the total credits required for graduation in the subject of Music. Our orchestra has been well sustained and creditable to the school. * * *

4. Our College Preparatory work has been on the whole well done. We now have our graduates in twenty different colleges. I have yet to hear of any student who has entered college on our certificate and been unable to do college work. Several of the colleges are now requiring the entrance examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board. Our students, in common with those of most other schools, are finding it very difficult to meet the requirements of these institutions. Our very best students can do it. The colleges now on this basis say they wish only the very best students, so the arrangement is evidently working as they desire. A student who can maintain a straight grade of A in this school can usually meet the requirements of these colleges.

5. We have been experimenting now for three years with the Industrial Course under the Smith-Hughes Act. In many ways this has been satisfactory and in some ways unsatisfactory. The class-room instruction has been of a very high type; so much so that several boys who have wished to change back to the regular course have been able to carry the advanced work in Mathematics, English and Science without loss of time. * * * Because of the money earned by the boys in these courses some have been able to stay in school who would otherwise have been obliged to leave. The course has helped to improve the general attitude of the school toward work that is at least in part manual, and has given many students a more dignified estimate of the man who works with his hands.

The employers of these boys have done their best to give them opportunities to learn a trade. But business conditions have been such that in many cases it has not been possible to give the boys the various types of work that are necessary to make a master workman. * * * In this type of work just as soon as compensation while learning becomes more important to the boy than learning the trade, he may well be dropped from the course. * * *

6. The work in teacher training has developed steadily, and the increase in salaries has had a tendency recently to attract more girls into this line of work. We have at present twenty-two girls in training for rural school teaching.

7. The work in Domestic Science has been expanded until a girl can now get three full years of it five periods a week. In this department we are seriously handicapped by a lack of room and the work is limited. This work cannot be much further developed without more ample accommodations for it.

8. We have introduced in a small way physical training for all the students. This is proving of considerable value. Our athletics offer development for a few students, but at least eighty per cent of the students do not engage in athletics. In common with most other schools we need to introduce a type of mass athletics, to include all the students in school, and to supplement this with physical examinations. We are failing more seriously in health education and the physical development of our pupils than in any other way. We need a gymnasium, a playground, and a full-time physical instructor, entirely apart from our interscholastic athletics.

9. The work in Elocution, Reading and Dramatics has been well sustained and has invariably reflected credit on the school.

10. For the past two years we have been securing closer co-operation with the homes, largely through the use of a part of one teacher's time in visiting the homes, getting acquainted with the parents, attempting to learn the abilities and ambitions of the students, and trying to secure more home study on the part of the students who are not doing their best. * * *

11. The percentage of failures in school has been materially reduced. In 1917 at the mid-year markings this percentage was 19.8. This year it was approximately 12.2. The number of failures is still too large and seems to be growing at present. There are several reasons for this:

(a) Since the discontinuance of the free tuition examinations by the state, some schools have not been careful in their promotion into high school.

(b) War wages and the employment of students of high school age have given so much money for pleasure that much time which should be put into school work is required to spend this money.

(c) It has not been the policy of the school to drop students who have not sufficient ability to do work of secondary grade. We now have students who have been in school three or four years and rate in the standard mental tests with the average of students in the sixth grade. * * *

(d) Our salary schedule has led to frequent changes of teachers, and new teachers always mean an increased failure list.

(e) Under the present organization of the grammar grades it is pretty difficult to learn the general trend of a child's abilities. Hence the first year sees many misfits in studies and too much failure and discouragement. * * *

RECOMMENDATIONS

From the foregoing statements of progress and conditions, it is possible to infer what is necessary to make a better high school. I will enlarge upon only two.

1. Need for more manual work in the lower classes.

We have many students in the lower classes who are totally unable to devote themselves for a whole day to intellectual work. Some of these would profit through the training of the muscles and through the learning of such things as may be taught in a high-grade course in Manual Training. Nearly all of them would do better work in the academic subjects if a part of their day could be devoted to physical work. There would also be a certain pre-vocational value to the work, for this type of student needs to try various things before finding the thing he can do best.

2. I can see no prospect of any great advancement in the high school work in Rutland without additional facilities. * * * The high school is growing slowly all the time, and the elimination of the ninth grade will have a tendency to bring into high school many students who now do not enter because they are in grammar school one year longer than they should be, and arrive at the age when they feel they cannot afford the time for a high school course. Thirty-four graduates of last year's grammar school graduating class did not enter this school. * * *

The only reasonable solution I can see for our building problem is to be found in the erection of a junior high school building near enough to the present high school so that the schools could use in common the Domestic Science rooms, Manual Training equipment, Printing equipment and Gymnasium which the new building should contain, and the junior high school could perhaps use our assembly hall and laboratories. Such a school, properly erected and organized, should do at least the following things:

(a) Make it possible to maintain only three years of work in the present building, giving more ample room for class work and study.

(b) Relieve the congestion in the grades by removing the grammar school pupils to the junior high school, making unnecessary the construction of more ward buildings.

(c) Make uniform the work of all pupils above the sixth or seventh grade, and give all those students an equal opportunity.

(d) Make possible the introduction of Domestic Science and Manual Training as full-time subjects in those grades where they are most needed. * * *

(e) Ascertain and test the abilities and aptitudes of students before they reach the high school proper, and place them in the kinds of courses they can do best. * * *

(f) Allow us to develop and improve our work in health education, home making, manual arts, English and Science.

(g) Provide opportunity for the evening school work which many states are already making compulsory for students who leave the regular schools before the age of eighteen.

All of the above things are nearly at a standstill and must have more room and equipment before the youth of the city can get what they are entitled to receive."

EDUCATION FOR CITIZENSHIP

The National Education Association of the United States at its last annual convention adopted the following resolution:

"We maintain that education for the responsibilities of citizenship is an increasingly pressing obligation on the schools at this critical period of national and world affairs and to that end education for citizenship must fill a large space in school programs from the kindergarten to the graduate courses of the universities, and this education must provide for practice along with instruction, so that there may be training in habits, ideals, and attitude of service for the common weal of community and nation."

Public education is one of the vital forces in our national life; it is a function of the state, and public school funds should be expended for the greatest good of all the children of the state without regard to age, race or creed. We are coming rapidly to the recognition of our obligation of developing to the uttermost and along the most beneficial lines this tremendous power. The time has passed when the obligations of a city or state can be considered fully discharged if its school funds are expended simply in teaching the subjects required by law and only the children within the compulsory school age. If this conception of Education is right, we may ask what is Rutland doing with its annual school fund of $100,000 to educate and train for citizenship those among us unfamiliar with our language and ideals: what is she doing to assist those who on account of adverse circumstances, were forced to leave school at the close of the compulsory school age; what is she doing to help those men and women among us who now see and feel the need of further study and training to more fully meet the demand of citizenship and society? The time has come in my opinion when this city through its schools should offer greater encouragement and assistance to all these classes of people. I shall welcome the time when our state by law will make it not only possible, but mandatory, for every school department to provide for the further education of such persons.

RECOMMENDATIONS

I recommend the following:

1. That the Mayor appoint at an early date a joint committee, representing the interests of the School Board, the Board of Aldermen and of other local organizations interested in civic improvement to make a survey of the school buildings of Rutland and to make its report to the citizens of the city.

2. That immediate steps be taken to relieve the congested condition in the High School and to make possible the establishment of a Junior High School.

3. That at the close of the present school year the ninth grade be eliminated from our system and that a Junior High School be established; if that be not possible, that all the grammar grades of the city be consolidated in the Longfellow Building and departmental instruction be continued.

4. That the ungraded school for backward pupils be continued and that Domestic Science, including cookery, be taught in that class and in the grammar grades.

5. That Manual Training be reestablished in the grammar grades and that the Industrial Course in the High school be continued provided the manufacturing interests of the city will encourage the course.

6. That Americanization and Citizenship receive greater attention in the school program from the kindergarten grade through High School course.

CONCLUSION

In closing this report I wish again to make hearty acknowledgment of the unfailing courtesy, good will and assistance so generously extended to me during the past year by all with whom I have been associated.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID B. LOCKE,
Superintendent of Schools.

Auditors' Report

To the Honorable City Council:

We have examined the books and accounts of the City Treasurer, City Clerk, Overseer of Poor, Superintendent of Schools, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find they have duly accounted for all moneys received by them and that they have proper vouchers for all moneys expended.

We find the records of disbursements as shown by the City Clerk and Superintendent of Schools agree with the entries on the City Treasurer's books.

We have checked the cash, and verified the notes, bonds, deposit books and securities in the hands of the City Treasurer and Sinking Fund Commissioners and found them to be in agreement with the books.

The various books and records in all departments were found in good order and vouchers for all disbursements were produced.

We believe the Sinking Fund Commissioners' report, which shows a list of securities in their hands at par value, should also show the market value of these securities at the time their report was made.

We highly commend the purchasing system of the City and advise that the work be extended still farther by the department of education. The Treasurer's books show a balance of $8,226.84 in uncollected taxes. It is our intention to take this matter up with your Honorable Board in a special report.

JAKE HEYMAN,
ROBERT D. SMITH,
W. T. SIMONDS,

Auditors of the City of Rutland.

Report of the Mayor

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I hereby submit, for your consideration, my third annual report as Mayor of the City of Rutland for the year ending Dec. 31, 1921.

In co-operation with the members of the City Council, we have tried to carry on the affairs of our city to the best of our knowledge and for the best interests of all concerned.

Again this last year, through the efforts of the City Treasurer the \$50,000.00 street improvement bonds were placed at par, five per cent, saving the city several thousand dollars, all for which he is deserving a great deal of credit. The rates of interest paid in some cities are as high as $6\frac{1}{2}$ and $6\frac{3}{4}$ per cent for city improvement bonds. While we issued \$50,000.00 more of street improvement bonds this last year, we have saved, through the payment of bonds and sinking fund earnings, \$39,668.87, making the net increase in our bonded debt of only \$10,331.13 as shown from the following figures taken from the report of the Treasurer. It is made up as follows:

Less sinking fund, water.....	$87,006 62
Less sinking fund, general.....	294,662 94
	<hr/>
	381,669 56
Net debt of city Dec. 31, 1921	$356,330 44
Net debt of city Dec. 31, 1920	345,999 31
	<hr/>
Increase in net bonded debt	$10,331 13

The following statement shows how increase was made:

Street Improvement bond, 1921 issue	$50,000 00
General appropriation to sinking fund.....	$12,000 00
School bonds, Nos. 581, 582, paid from general fund	2,000 00
Street improvement bonds, Nos. 608-617, paid from general fund	10,000 00
		<hr/>
		39,668 87
		$10,331 13

We also were able to close our books with a cash balance on hand from our general accounts of $15,472.76.

We had money enough left from our $50,000.00 Bond Issue, after finishing the work on Strongs Ave. and South Main Street, to put in a piece of permanent road on Washington Street, in front of the City Hall, leaving a balance in the Street Improvement Account for 1921 of $1,739.61 after this work was finished.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

This Department was in charge of Donald D. Snyder up to June 1, 1921. After the resignation of Mr. Snyder, I appointed to this office Mr. Joseph P. Feeley, formerly superintendent for Linberg & Street on construction of the Wales and West Streets roadway and sewers, and I feel that the City of Rutland was very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Feeley, as he seems to be the right man in the right place, not only as an engineer but a practical man, as he has had the experience in all kinds of work and understands the handling of men. Personally, I have been very much pleased with the way the work has gone along under his supervision and I also feel that the public is well pleased. He certainly has accomplished a lot since he has been on the job. We did not do all the work we would like to have done, but did all we could with what we had to do with. We are in hopes to accomplish more this coming year and get started earlier in the spring.

We purchased last spring a Scarifier for the Steam Roller. This has proved to be not only a money saver, but to do the work of picking up the roads and having them rolled back with one operation. While this work is not permanent, it smooths the roads and better satisfies the public and at a nominal cost.

The work that was unfinished on Wales and West Streets was completed in June. While there was quite a little criticism the time the work was going on, I do feel that the public is very well satisfied with the work, now that it is finished.

The permanent road work on Strongs Ave. and South Main Street extending to the City Line was started early in the spring and finished September 1st. This road gives a good approach to our city from the south, it being joined by the State and Federal Aid Road at the City Line with an eighteen foot concrete road, giving us a stretch of about two and one quarter miles of cement concrete road.

One of the worst problems this city is up against at the present time and will be for some time to come, until they are replaced and enlarged, is the sewer proposition. In nearly all cases our sewers that were laid years ago, with the idea of serving the public for the time being and not looking to the future, are too small to take the house sewage and the surface water where hard surface roads are built. We have enlarged some this year and built several new lines and, as the city grows and new sections are built up, it calls for new sewers and water mains and should have them, but all of this costs money and cannot be done at once.

I was approached last spring by Mr. O. J. Maigne in regard to doing some work on North Street in the way of curbing, sidewalk and repairing roadbed, and he most generously offered to give his check to the City of Rutland for $1200.00 towards this work, which he did.

As you will note by Mr. Feeley's report, we have fenced in our city storage yard between Spruce and Post Streets, repaired and enlarged the storage sheds, fitted up one of these for a repair shop, where we can do all our own repairing of machines, automobiles, etc., and save us quite an expense in upkeep.

You will also note the new stone quarry we are opening on Pine Hill. This property, as you know, was given to the City of Rutland by Ex-Mayor H. O. Carpenter and comprises about 150 acres. This was a most generous gift and we look forward to sometime in the future when this can be made into a city park.

There is being some work done in the city engineer's office under the supervision of Mr. Feeley, assisted by Mr. Royce, that has been needed for a good many years, and, when completed, will be a valuable asset to the city. I refer to a most complete map of the city showing streets, sewers, water mains, hydrants and fire alarm boxes, also a new filing and accounting system telling one just what has been done each day and the cost of doing it, all of which is kept on file.

WATER DEPARTMENT

This department has been well taken care of under the supervision of Mr. Francis Tracy. There have been several new mains installed and some enlarged and extended, new hydrants and a number of new services.

There was purchased in this department water rights from four different parties at an expenditure of $14,900.00, all of which will be of great benefit to our water shed. We did not do any reforestation on the city property this year, but do expect to this coming year, as I feel that some time, if nothing happens to the young trees, this investment will be one of the most valuable assets to our city that we can have. We have planted about 500,000 trees and over 350,000 of them are in healthy condition and they are from two to three and one-half feet high.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

This department is well taken care of by Commissioner Fred C. Roberts, and the members of both the Police and Fire Departments have carried out the duties of their offices to the best of their ability. I think we have one of the best small Fire Departments in the State of Vermont and the Chief and the men connected with this department are faithful, efficient and "Johnny on the Spot" when it comes to a fire.

DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

This department under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Hickey has been well looked after. Some of the buildings are badly in need of repairs. With so many out of work this winter, the calls are many and from some who have never asked for aid before.

MEMORIAL HALL

The same appropriation of $4000.00 was made to the Library this past year and the money was well spent. Electric lights have been installed on the second floor and some minor repairs made on the inside of building. There is still more work that should be done on the building and the old lighting system on first floor should be remodeled.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, I desire to express my appreciation to the Honorable City Council for their co-operation in conducting the affairs of our city and the friendly relations that have existed this year as in the other years I have held the office of Mayor. To Treasurer of the City, City Clerk, the Heads of the different Departments, as well as to the men connected with them, I extend my thanks for their assistance in conducting the affairs of our city.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES C. DUNN,

Mayor.

Mussey Brock Bridge on South Main Street was built under contract by the Hassam Paving Company.

Cost of bridge $2,849.90

Moon Brook Bridge was built by the City of Rutland, labor from the Street Department.

Cost of bridge $1,172.68

Baxter Street Bridge, near corner of Oak Street, was also built by the Street Department.

Cost of bridge $750.13

NOTE: Lumber used on Moon Brook Bridge utilized in the construction of Baxter Street Bridge.

The size and type of the above bridges are about the same, and you will note that there was considerable saving to the city on the bridges constructed by city labor.

It was decided to widen and curb Strongs Avenue 3 feet on the East line, from Prospect to Clover Street, to reduce the danger to travel caused by vehicles standing at the curb at the various places of business in that section.

This work was constructed by city workmen.

Curb for this job was hauled from the Post Street yard, where it was originally removed from West and Wales Streets in 1920.

North Street on the north side was curbed, with marble removed from West and Wales Streets. This work was also done by city workmen.

A survey was made of Washington Street, between Wales and Merchants Row, and a concrete pavement laid. On this project the marble curb on both north and south sides had to be relaid. The curb on the south side was from 5" to 18" below grade.

We found that the 10" sewer had to be relaid as it was deteriorated in numerous places.

The city workmen did exceptionally good work on this job, as they had to use a small concrete mixer, which necessitated considerable moving around to get results.

STREETS

The majority of principal traveled streets needed reshaping and adding some road metal in the dips; the Street Department covered considerable ground, and a few years work will put the streets in serviceable condition. To get good results after reshaping a road, it is necessary to apply a binder of tar or asphalt to keep the surface metal from blowing away; this is not permanent construction, and our roads of water bound Macadam and gravel will not stand up for any length of time under the conditions that we have today. Our City Ordinance calls for 10 miles per hour, but the cars travel much faster than that speed, and the suction of the tires as they pass over the surface causes pot holes and scabing. The proper maintenance treatment for the above type of road is to have a patrol man with a cold patch preparation of tar and stone chips and apply as soon as defects appear in the surface; this is a costly method but it is necessary to save the road. At a future time this water bound or gravel road will make an excellent base for a permanent type.

Oil was applied to City streets in May and July, furnished by the Standard Oil Company and applied at the rate of $\frac{1}{3}$ of a gallon per square yard. The first oil was applied by team and the second oiling by auto spreader.

Cost of oil was considerably higher than in 1919 due to advance in price.

Water sprinkling was done in business sections of the City by the horse-drawn motor flusher and gave excellent results.

A considerable number of protests were received by the Commissioner of Public Works, regarding oil applied in outlying sections, and it seems as if some solution should be aimed at whereby the oil tax will be a satisfactory charge to all. At present owners of corner lots and owners of farms and large frontages in the more sparsely settled districts pay an exceedingly large amount for their share.

SEWERS

The sewer system has given considerable trouble due to the extra large drainage area and additional houses connected on the laterals.

During Fair week, Park Street sewer could not begin to carry off the sewage and we had numerous stoppages. Would recommend that at least two manholes be constructed to relieve that section.

River Street sewer backed into cellars after rains and caused much damage. The City Council directed that the sewer be relaid and larger pipe installed, between Meadow Street and Forest Street; this project was carried through. On removal of old pipe we found on examination that one-half the flow area was filled with roots from poplar trees, that grow in this vicinity. Two manholes were built on this line and the dwellings in this area are relieved from future nuisance.

It would be a money saver if all sewers laid in sections where willow, poplar and similar types of trees abode, were laid with sand and sulphur joint and waterproofed with pitch. This type of joint would prevent roots from growing in the pipe, causing stoppage of the flow area.

The sewer on Pine Street between West and State Streets has caused property owners trouble for the past few years. The sewer was 2 feet below the surface and was found to be a 5" concrete pipe that had disintegrated. The City Council authorized the relaying and enlarging. An 8" pipe was installed and new connections to all dwellings made; also one manhole was constructed, and at present time this line is in excellent condition.

All catch basins were cleaned late last fall, and numerous sewer lines flushed out.

SIDEWALKS

Considerable sidewalks were laid this year, both tar-concrete and cement-concrete.

Tar-concrete sidewalks were constructed by Anson B. Hatch, Contractor, Rutland, Vt.

ENGINEERING WORK

Numerous surveys were run; street lines and grades given on request of property owners.

A sewer and water plan of both systems was compiled and City blocked off in areas; unfinished plans were completed and note books tabulated and contents transferred to proper plans.

A cost system was installed, including superintendent's daily report, unit cost sheet, construction cost record and construction record of completed job.

Survey, profile and cross-sections were made of West Street, Columbian Avenue and State Street. This was necessary to make drawings for the Gateway Road to be built in 1922.

Final survey of Strongs Avenue and South Main Street was completed, and final estimate for Hassam Paving Company forwarded to City Treasurer.

Richard Royce deserves mention for his interest, accuracy and loyalty in the Engineering Department.

POST STREET YARD

Conditions at the City Yard on Post Street were far from being satisfactory for the proper care and maintenance of tools, equipment and supplies.

The City Council authorized the Mayor and Commissioner of Public Works to do work up to $2500.00, and a new steel wire fence 7 feet high, set in concrete piers, was erected by the Street Department. After the erection of the fence, the old building was renovated, brick floors, electric lights and heating system installed, a new wing to house equipment was built on the North side and another in the rear of main building. Grading will be finished in the spring of 1922. Then we will have a City Yard well adapted to our needs. Minor repair work and overhauling of equipment will be carried on throughout the winter months.

PINE HILL PROJECT

In June a survey of the stone quarry on Lincoln Boulevard was made, and results showed that we would not have enough stone to finish the season; such was the case. Stone was shipped from Port Henry, N. Y., but shipment of stone from foreign sources is not satisfactory. First, on account of cost. Second, uncertainty of arrival. Numerous quarries were recommended, but none were found satisfactory, until the quarry on Pine Hill was located. This land is owned by the City of Rutland, and is $1\frac{3}{4}$ miles northwest from the City Hall.

A committee from the Board of Aldermen and Commissioner of Public Works made the journey and looked the site over, a tentative estimate on cost was arrived at and it was decided to transfer the crushing plant from Lincoln Boulevard to Pine Hill.

Tests of specimens of the stone were sent to the Testing Laboratory of the University of Vermont and results of tests were as follows:

Stone of good quality, close grained, suitable for water bound Macadam and concrete pavement. It shows a French coefficient of wear = 11.5. This is an exceptionally good quarry. It has a high face and contains an unlimited supply, down grade haul to all points in Rutland.

The work of razing the old crusher was started October 25, 1921, and also 3,000 lineal feet of 12 ft. roadway from Evergreen Avenue to the new crusher site on Pine Hill. This work will be completed February 1, 1922, and the plant put in operation. The above quarry is located on property donated to the City by former Mayor, H. O. Carpenter.

WATER DEPARTMENT

The Water Department has functioned under the able supervision of Francis Tracy.

In addition to the regular repairs necessary for the up-keep of the system much more work was necessary the past year than usual.

A new 6" main was laid on St. John's Street and Woodstock Avenue.

The 6" main on Deer Street was extended to give service to houses under construction.

The old 3" main on Brown Street was replaced by a new 6" main from the intersection of River and Brown Streets 336 feet northerly, and a new hydrant set.

A 10" main was run from Madison Street, southerly on the west side of Strongs Avenue 475 feet, and connected with a 6" branch 40 feet in length at the intersection of Royce Street and Strongs Avenue.

The old 3" main on Baxter Street, south of Robbins Street, was replaced with a new 6" main to State Street, and thence south of State Street, and 2 hydrants on Baxter Street connected with the 6" main.

The old 3" main on State Street from Baxter Street to Cleveland Avenue was replaced with new 10" main and old 3" main at intersection of State Street and Cleveland Avenue connected with new 10" main. New 10" main extended South on Cleveland Avenue to 3" service for Gas Plant and a four way hydrant placed one hundred feet north of Shirt Factory on this line.

All the old mains at Baxter and State Streets and Cleveland Avenue and State Street were connected with new larger mains, and all house services where new mains were run were transferred from old mains to new.

Necessary valves were set at street intersections. Changes in this section were necessary to increase the size of main for fire protection purposes.

The 6" main on West Street was extended a distance of 84 feet westerly from Ripley Street. A circulation connected with the new sewer which had been extended to a point near the end of main. This replaces a $\frac{3}{4}$ " main which froze several times, when the frost reached a considerable depth and made quite an expense for thawing, which this extension and circulation is expected to overcome.

All services from Madison Street, southerly on Strongs Avenue and South Main Street, to City Line were replaced with new ones. All vacant lots, where necessary, have new services extended to property line. All valves were excavated and repaired; new valve boxes being supplied when required. The main at the bridge crossing Moon Brook on Strongs Avenue was supplied with a new box and packed with non-freezing material. This was also done on the main at the bridge on South Main Street, at the Fair Grounds. All changes and repairs on these two streets were made necessary by the laying of the cement roadway.

A new duplicate Chlorinator was installed at the Chlorine plant. This equips the plant with two machines, so that in the event of one being out of repair the other will be ready for use, making it possible at all times to properly chlorinate the water.

A field test at the reservoir has been made daily by use of Ortho-Tolidine. An accurate record of same was kept and mailed each week to the State Laboratory of Hygiene. The District Health Officer sends a sample of water each day, taken anywhere in the City, to the State Laboratory of Hygiene for analysis, an account of which is kept there. A copy of same together with copy of the field test is returned to this office, showing the results of the analysis, and is filed in the City Clerk's office.

A fence, about a mile in length, was built at the water shed on the Rooney property, from material collected elsewhere on City land, to prevent stray cattle from coming on land where young trees are planted. A fence was also constructed around the Gleason Reservoir to keep cattle from getting into the stream, and coming near the reservoir.

About 60 new services were laid throughout the City for the supply of building under way of construction. A number of dead ends at street intersections were connected, and the usual amount of old services relaid; leaks in mains repaired, etc.

The following tables show an account of the money expended in the Public Works Department:

I would suggest that at least two concrete bridges be constructed each year and in this way we overcome the large maintenance cost on present wooden structures. The arch type is to be recommended as very little steel is necessary and the type of construction is simple.

The steel bridges at Crescent Street, State Street, and Ripley Road, also River Street, are in need of painting. It will be a good investment if above work gets a thorough wire brushing and one coat of paint during the season of 1922.

In closing this report, I wish to express my thanks to his Honor, Mayor Dunn, the Honorable Board of Aldermen, individually and collectively, for their many courtesies and confidences extended to me; also to the employees of all departments for their faithfulness and honesty in performance of their many duties.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH P. FEELEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Safety

To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit the annual report of the Fire and Police Departments for the year 1921.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Fire Department is composed of the Chief Engineer, 1st assistant engineer, 2nd assistant engineer, seven regular firemen, 13 call men and 1 steamer engineer.

The Chief Engineer, 1st assistant engineer and four firemen are located at Station No. 1. At Station No. 2 there are 3 firemen and the 2nd assistant engineer.

The addition of one regular fireman which was authorized by the City Council at the regular meeting on Jan. 16th will aid the department materially.

The department was called out 82 times during the year, 61 telephone, 18 bell, 2 thermostat and one still alarm.

The total fire loss for the year was $23,328.51, a remarkably good showing in view of the number of alarms, and to the efficiency of the department no small part of this is due.

Another factor in keeping the loss down was the work done by Fire Marshal Reedy with the co-operation of the citizens in preventing fires by eliminating every possible fire hazard.

A much needed addition to our department is a car for the use of the Chief Engineer, not only to be used in responding to alarms, but it is needed to give the required attention to the fire alarm system.

The expense of the department for 1921 is as follows:

Pay Roll	$15,631 25
Fuel	658 82
Repairs and Supplies	155 56
Laundry	58 47
Telephone	19 80
Light and Power	116 12
Auto Supplies and Repairs	302 57
Insurance	100 00
Ground Rent, Station No. 2	18 00
New Equipment	440 17
Additions and Repairs to Fire Alarm System	776 98
Sundries	53 14
Commissioner's Salary	100 00
	<hr/>
	$18,430 88
	<hr/>

An inventory of the property and supplies on hand shows a total of $37,300.95.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Police Department consists of the Chief of Police, eight regular patrolmen and a number of special officers.

During the year there have been 198 arrests, 94 for intoxication and 104 for all other offenses, 263 people were given lodgings.

The Police Signal System which has been in use for a number of years has practically outlived its usefulness and should be replaced immediately by a modern system. During the past year the expense of maintenance increased materially, and only at rare intervals was the whole system in running order.

The expense for the year is as follows:

Pay Roll	$12,738 30
Signal Service	580 03
New Equipment and Supplies	414 81
Commissioner's Salary	100 00
	$13,833 14

An inventory of property and supplies on hand shows a total of $997.50.

Respectfully submitted,
FRED C. ROBERTS,
Commissioner of Public Safety.

Report of the City Attorney

To the Honorable City Council:

I herewith submit my report as City Attorney for the year ending December 31, 1921.

At the commencement of my term of office, I completed, with the assistance of various City Officials, the revision of the City Ordinances. These revised Ordinances, which were subsequently adopted, I believe have proven satisfactory and cover all matters that should properly be regulated by the City.

During the month of May the Rutland Railway Light & Power Company sought to discontinue a part of its service on the South Belt Line. Many protests against this change in service were received by the City Attorney, and through the efforts of various interested parties and myself the Company consented to continue the old service.

In May of this year the City Attorney, acting with the Committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen for that purpose, brought a petition before the Public Service Commission for the purpose of securing, if possible, a reduction in the rates charged for gas by the Rutland Railway, Light & Power Company. Hearings were begun on this petition in July, and further hearings were held in August, October, November, and finally completed in the early part of January of this year. A large amount of research and preparation was necessary in order to present this matter properly before the Commission, and on account of conditions over which the counsel for the City had no control, the hearings were postponed from time to time over the period indicated, so that more time was consumed in getting in the evidence than was anticipated. Briefs are now being prepared for use by the Commission and it is expected that a decision will be rendered sometime within the next month or six weeks. In the preparation and hearing of the case the City Attorney had the valuable assistance of Attorney Walter S. Fenton, Mr. A. B. S. Little, Gas Engineer for the City of New York, and Mr. T. W. Earle, an Engineer of this city. We feel that a strong case was presented to the Commission by the petitioners, and that a substantial reduction should result to the consumers of gas in the City by reason of this proceeding.

By direction of the City Council a proceeding was brought in the name of certain residents on Burnham Avenue, to procure an injunction against the operation of a public garage by Wm. Gosselin. Hearing was held on a temporary injunction, but after some evidence was introduced and it appeared that some of the things causing the most serious complaints had been discontinued, the Court indicated that the matter should be held open with the right on the part of the petitioners to apply for further relief in case the offensive practices were resumed.

The City Attorney has assisted the Committee appointed to obtain water rights on the North Branch of Cold River and during the year some essential water rights have been acquired without the expense of condemnation proceedings.

During the year a great many insane paupers have been removed to the Brattleboro Retreat for treatment, through the efforts of the City Attorney and the Overseer of the Poor, and the City thereby relieved from liability for their support and care.

The City Attorney has devoted a considerable amount of time in assisting the Committee appointed to investigate the matter of widening Grove Street and in connection with this matter has prepared many options and agreements with various property owners whose rights will be affected if the project is carried through.

Throughout the year the City Attorney has been frequently called upon to advise and assist various Committees and officers of the city, and it has always been a pleasure and a privilege to render such assistance as was in his power.

Respectfully submitted,

CLAYTON H. KINNEY,

City Attorney.

REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER

During the past year the following communicable diseases have been reported for the City of Rutland: Chicken-pox, 94; diphtheria, 11; measles, 96; influenza, 4; scarlet fever, 9; small-pox, 18; typhoid fever, 3; German measles, 3; mumps, 3; pneumonia, 5; whooping-cough, 186.

The possibilities of small-pox shows us that we cannot neglect vaccination. While many were vaccinated last year, many have been born since which need protection. The committee appointed for the purpose of investigation of vaccination, by the American Public Health Association, reported to the recent meeting in New York that all children should be vaccinated before a year old, best about the age of 6 months. In these cases the chances of infection is less and the "take" less severe. Children should be vaccinated again about 12 years of age, to be sure they are still immune. If not immune the "take" will be mild.

The working out of the present health system presents some difficulties in handling the milk question. The health officer, being on a salary, is not allowed to use the fees for milk licenses. Unless he has money he cannot buy samples of milk and pay express to the laboratory. In some districts the towns have waived all milk license fees, and allowed the health officer to buy the samples from the town funds. So long as there is a state law providing for the purchase of milk samples from license fees, District No. 7 has not seen fit to use town or city money for that purpose. To comply with both requirements, the health officer has received the applications, inspected the dairies, collected the fees, and turned them over to one of the members of the local Board of Health, who uses it to buy samples and pay express. This has given one of the members of the local Board of Health extra work, but he has been obliging enough to do it for the city and health officer.

Most of the samples of milk submitted have complied with the state requirements. Two samples were reported as having added water and they are now in the hands of the State's Attorney, to determine whether the circumstances warrant prosecution. Some samples contained visible dirt. In such cases, the producer has had his attention called to the matter, asking him to check up on his methods, and a second sample has usually resulted in clean milk.

Some of the producers seem to think that it is the duty of the health officer to ask them for the license fee. They should apply for license to sell milk, as they would for an automobile license, and failure to do so makes a dealer liable to prosecution.

In examining milk reports one cannot help noticing that all samples tend to show only the minimum requirements for food products contained. This is the natural law of economics, as a producer cannot sell milk containing 4.5% butter fat for the price which 2.25% sells for. The more food products a quart of milk contains, the more it is worth to the consumer. He gets more for his money. The public should recognize this, and a dealer who will guarantee a greater per cent of butter fat and solids should receive proportionately more for his milk. Unless this is done no one in Rutland will be able, after a little, to buy milk with more than 3.25% butter fat and 11.75% total solids, which is not a very high grade of milk from a food standpoint. It is as much to the advantage of the consumer to pay the farmer on the basis of food value in milk, as it is for the producer.

The water supply is receiving careful attention. The State Chemist has made at least two visits of inspection to the plant and the State Engineer has gone over the water-shed with the Water Commissioner and Health Officer. Delicate, but simple tests have been devised to show that proper amounts of chemical are added to sterilize the water at the intake, while they are also applied at the reservoir to keep the amount low enough so that no free chemical is left in the water going to the homes.

These tests are made daily. Daily samples are submitted to the laboratory for bacterial count. The health officer believes Rutland has a safe water supply.

Respectfully submitted,

BERN D. COLBY, M. D.,
Health Officer, District No. 7.

Report of the Board of School Commissioners

To the Mayor, City Council and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

The Board of School Commissioners herewith submits the Report of its administration of the schools for the past year, together with its suggestions and recommendations for the year ensuing.

That the importance of maintaining our schools at the highest possible standard is thoroughly recognized, has been demonstrated many times in the past through the generous support accorded by the citizens of Rutland, and it seems unnecessary to use space in this report to reiterate what has been so many times stated through the medium of the annual reports of our predecessors.

Our citizens have ever been ready to furnish the necessary funds to carry on this important and essential department of government, when its requirements have been fully understood and appreciated.

Previous to this year, the City Council was limited by the terms of the charter to an appropriation not to exceed fifty cents on the dollar of the grand list for the support of the schools, except when authorized by the legal voters of the city to exceed that amount.

For some years it has been impossible to maintain the schools on an appropriation of fifty cents on the dollar of the grand list, and therefore it was necessary for an additional sum to be voted each year. In 1920, owing chiefly to necessary and wholly warranted increases in the salaries of our teachers, an additional tax of twenty-five cents in excess of the fifty cents provided in the charter, was voted.

To meet the requirements for 1921, it was early apparent that an appropriation based on a tax of seventy-five cents would be insufficient. The continued increase in the unit cost of practically everything required for the schools, such as supplies, text books, fuel and the many necessary repairs to school property, together with the normal annual increases provided under the salary schedule, left the board with no other alternative than to ask for a total appropriation of eighty-five cents on the dollar.

In order to obviate an annual vote for this appropriation, the board in conjunction with the City Council, procured an amendment to the charter increasing the amount which the council is authorized to appropriate without an express vote, to eighty-five cents on the dollar of the grand list; and it is primarily due to the whole-hearted, unhesitating and emphatic manner in which the people of the city responded to our appeal last March, and ratified this amendment to the charter that we have been able to close the year's work with an exceptionally good financial showing.

FINANCES

The detail of the receipts and disbursements in this department will be found annexed to this report. Reference thereto will show that the increased revenues for the current year on account of the additional tax of ten cents on the dollar were offset to some extent by the falling off in revenue from some other sources, notably in the rebate from the State for industrial training, and the decrease in the cash balance carried forward into the 1921 account from the cash balance on January 1, 1920. The actual increase in receipts, including cash balances brought forward, amounted to $10,759.10. A comparison of the disbursements of 1921 with 1920, follows:

DISBURSEMENTS

Account	1921	1920	Increase
Salaries	$87,041 41	$82,437 55	$4,603 86
Printing, Adv. and Ins.	538 90	669 63	(130 73)*

Cash balance forward	2,103 97	43 21

*(Represents decrease).

Substantially all of this increase results from the normal salary increases, and the increased cost of text books and fuel.

The financial statement of any year cannot be wholly complete without calling attention to a condition which always exists at the end of the year. Certain expenses, the amount of which cannot be known when the books are closed for the year, are incurred in the latter part of the month of December, and come up in the month of January for payment, and consequently are charged into the expenses of the succeeding year.

There was incurred in this manner in the month of December, 1920, expenses amounting to $650.76 which are charged up in the items of disbursement in the year 1921. This year the board was able to get in for payment practically all of its December obligations, so that only the sum of $217.27 was carried into the 1922 account. Could these bills have come in for payment in December we could have paid the entire expense of the operation of the schools for the year, have paid the balance of $650.76 left over from the proceeding year, and would have had left a balance of $1,886.70 to our credit, clear of all expenses, which we believe to be a remarkably fine showing and one that has not been equalled in many years.

SCHOOL PLANT

Your attention has been directed many times in the past to the fact that we have outgrown our school plant. Hardly an annual report either from the Board of School Commissioners or the Superintendent, has been made for years in which greater or less emphasis has not been given to the matter of the overcrowded condition of our schools and the absolute necessity of evolving some plan to relieve the consequent congestion. The time has now arrived when some action must be taken to provide additional facilities for our pupils, or some of them will have to be denied the opportunity for an education, which is guaranteed them by the law.

(a) Grade Schools.

In the grades there has been not only the normal increase in the number of pupils entering school but owing to the use of two old school buildings having been abandoned some three or four years ago, and the necessity of giving up the use of the attic room in the Kingsley Building as a school room early last year, places for these pupils had to be found in the other buildings. The result has been that in the month of December, 1921, there were upwards of forty pupils each in 19 of the 42 grade school rooms. This not only exceeds the proper capacity of the rooms, but it places upon the teacher a load greatly in excess of what she ought properly to carry, and seriously interferes with her ability to get the best results with her class. Under these conditions, it is almost certain that places cannot be found to take care of the expected increase in attendance at the opening of the next fall term.

Some relief for the grades is expected to result through the action of the board in eliminating the ninth grade. In carrying out this action it is planned to absorb this class into the high school in two sections, so that after the end of the next school year, this grade will have been entirely eliminated. This will not by any means solve the problem which we are facing in the grade schools. In fact it tends to increase our difficulties in the high school, to which I shall refer a little later. It is however an wholly unnecessary grade and one which has been done away with in practically every town in the State.

This situation has been given careful, thorough and studious consideration, and there seems to be only one solution which can be worked out at this time.

(b) Plan Proposed for Relieving Congestion in the Grade Schools.

There is a great deal of waste space in the Longfellow Building that can and should be utilized for school room purposes. By making certain alterations in the interior of the building, two additional rooms can be secured which will help materially in taking care of the surplus.

This will make the Longfellow School a ten room building, in which the board strongly recommends that there be established an intermediate school, to be made up of the seventh and eighth grades under the supervision of a man principal, such a school will take care of all of the pupils in these two grades, with the exception of two classes in the seventh grade, which can be provided for in two other buildings without difficulty.

This plan further so relieves the other schools that all of the pupils below these grades can be accommodated without any congestion and with an average load of about 36 or 37 pupils per teacher.

Should it be determined in the future to erect a new High School Building, or add to the present one, and establish therein both a Junior and Senior High School, the Longfellow Building will be available to take care of all normal increases in grade pupils for many years to come.

It is a particularly opportune time in which to carry out this plan from a financial standpoint as well.

The old furnaces which have been serving this building ever since it was built over thirty years ago, must of necessity be replaced within a year or two. The floors, both on the first and second stories have begun to sag to such an extent that a large expenditure must be made this summer in getting the floors back to a level and putting in supports to keep them there. The building badly needs redecorating throughout its entire interior.

We are further advised that the market for building materials necessary for this work is particularly favorable at this time; steel and iron work and lumber having reached the lowest point in years and it is not anticipated among builders that there will be any further decrease in the cost of such materials. We also believe that whenever possible, public works should be undertaken in times of depression, thereby aiding as far as may be in solving the problems of unemployment of labor.

From careful estimates which we have caused to be made, we find that these alterations can be made, the two rooms added and equipped, new and modern heating apparatus installed, the floors levelled and properly supported, and the entire interior renovated and redecorated at a total expense of about $30,000.00.

We can conceive of no other plan of meeting the situation which will give us such beneficial results, that would not entail an expenditure many times in excess of this sum.

(c) High School.

Conditions as to congestion in the High School are, if it be possible, even worse than in the grades. The high school has a seating capacity of approximately 390. At the present time it has an average membership of about 480. A careful estimate for next year indicates an enrollment of 550 pupils, with an average attendance for the next school year of about 535. By utilizing all available space in the building, including the use of the large assembly hall as a study room, the school has managed in one way and another, to get along during the past two or three years. This has been done by putting anywhere from 125 to 150 pupils in the assembly hall, and also by using one class room immediately adjoining a room in which typewriting classes are held. The difficulty both for teacher and pupils of conducting a class when in the very next room over twenty typewriters are being operated simultaneously, leaves nothing to the imagination.

Nor can it be expected that any beneficial results can be achieved in a study hall of the size of the assembly room with anywhere from 125 to 175 pupils occupying movable desks and seats, with the inevitable and constant noise and confusion that attends every movement; while it is beyond the physical endurance of any teacher, no matter how strong and capable he or she may be, to maintain proper discipline under such conditions.

It is very apparent that the board must provide accommodations elsewhere for a considerable number of high school students until such time as the city is able to construct a new high school building. This is a matter which every citizen should be considering, as it must be provided in the near future. For the present some arrangement can doubtless be made to hire rooms in the near vicinity of the present high school building to care for this excess population.

REPAIRS

It has been the aim of the board to keep the school properties in a reasonable state of repair, but owing to lack of funds, and the abnormal cost of both material and labor for the past few years, a good many things which ought to have been done were passed along from year to year, until the present board found itself with an accumulation of various needed repairs on its hands.

Through the able and untiring efforts of the committee on buildings, all absolutely essential repairs, including the installation of additional lighting in the Longfellow Building, were made at a minimum cost. Upon the recommendation of the building committee, a plan was adopted to be followed so far as practicable, of thoroughly renovating and painting, redecorating and putting in first class shape one building each year, with the hope that by so doing, our school plant would present a better appearance than it would by trying to utilize the funds available in cleaning up and painting one room in each building every year.

Accordingly, in addition to the general repairs mentioned, we have thoroughly renovated the Madison Street building, painting and redecorating it both outside and inside, so that it not only presents a very much improved appearance to the passerby, but the school rooms have been made attractive to both teachers and pupils, while the life of the building has been extended for many years, and all at an expense of only about nine hundred dollars.

SUPERINTENDENT

Early in the summer it became necessary for the board to select a successor to Mr. David B. Locke, who had served the city with marked ability as superintendent of schools for the past sixteen years. Out of something over twenty applicants we selected as his successor, Mr. William W. Fairechild, whose qualifications for the position seemed to us to place him far in the lead of any other of the candidates for the office. Although Mr. Fairechild has been with us only a few months, his manifest executive ability, his thorough and exhaustive knowledge of school problems, and the results which he has already accomplished, have many times justified the wisdom of our choice, and we confidently predict that under his wise and efficient leadership the public schools of our city will in the near future be acknowledged by all as the finest in Vermont.

TEACHER TRAINING

At the last session of the legislature the school laws were so amended that the State Board of Education was authorized to establish certain teacher training schools providing both a one and two year course. Acting under this legislation, the State Board instituted a teacher training school at the old Castleton Normal School plant, and in conformity with its general plan, discontinued the teacher training course which had been conducted in connection with our high school for some years past.

INDUSTRIAL COURSE

The past year has been very disastrous to the industrial course which has been carried on under the provisions of the so called Smith-Hughes act. This course to be successful contemplates a part time study of the theory of mechanics and skilled manual trades, with the remaining time spent in the practical work in the shop or factory. Owing primarily to the business depression, it has been impossible for any number of students enrolled in this course, to get the practical benefit of actual shop work without which the course cannot be successful, and the expense of continuing this course seems to be wholly out of proportion to the beneficial results which can be achieved, at least for some considerable time to come. It is therefore recommended that the course be discontinued at the close of the present school year.

CONCLUSION

In closing, the Board wishes to express to the teaching force its sincere appreciation of the loyal and efficient service rendered during the past year. We feel that the city should be congratulated on having a staff of teachers whose primary object in life is, and always has been, devoted to the welfare of our children.

It is well for us to reflect occasionally upon the fact that many of our teachers have given the best years of their lives to our own Rutland schools. At least twenty-eight of the forty-two grade teachers have served us faithfully for more than ten years. Of this number 12 have exceeded 15 years of service; 3 more than 20 years; 9 over 25 years and one in excess of 35 years; while Miss Meldon, for the past few years a teacher in the high school, has devoted 42 years of her life to the education of the youth of our city.

We believe this record of service to be unsurpassed in any school system in Vermont or elsewhere and it is one in which we take a just pride.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS,

Rutland, Vt.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the board of School Commissioners, The Mayor, City Council and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

Since my term of service for the Rutland Public Schools began only seven months ago, it will be out of the question for me to deal with the past to any extent. My report will, therefore deal with the present and the future.

Too often there has been a temptation on the part of school officials and in fact whole communities to deal with a school situation as though it were a matter of a year or so. We cannot take any such narrow view of our educational needs. We must consider educational problems realizing that the solution proposed must be for a long period of time.

The success of schools depends primarily upon two fundamental factors of education; first, a highly trained professionally minded teaching force; second, adequate and comfortable buildings provided with proper equipment.

SCHOOL PLANT

The building needs of the Public Schools of Rutland have been so well put by Mr. Walter Fenton, President of the Board of School Commissioners, in his annual report that it is unnecessary for me to dwell on that subject. Mr. Edward S. Abbott, Principal of Rutland High School, has this to say regarding congestion in the high school: "It has been my annual custom to refer to the congestion of the school and the necessity of planning to provide added accommodations. This, so far, has made but little impression. We have now reached the point where something must be done immediately or the work of the school hampered to such an extent that we shall not be doing for our young people the minimum that New England youth has a right to expect. We shall have an enrollment next year of approximately 535 students and the following year of nearly or quite 600 to be cared for in a building that can accommodate only fairly well 400. Of course this is out of the question and additional rooms must be provided or we shall be compelled to run two separate sessions each day, forenoons for one group of students and afternoons for the other group. This can be done as a temporary expedient, but I suspect the people of Rutland will not long care to submit to the inconvenience of it. This matter I commend to your careful consideration."

If the citizens of Rutland plan to give their children as good an education as any child anywhere can get it will be necessary to provide in the very near future an up-to-date high school building large enough to accommodate all the pupils of the city from the sixth grade up.

TEACHERS

We are fortunate in having a large number of devoted, hard-working and capable teachers. If parents would spend a day in a school room they would be filled with wonder at the amount that can be accomplished under the conditions prevailing in the class room. It would be easy to prove that no class of public servants, the country over, renders a greater service for the amount paid them than the public school teachers.

In the final analysis we have good schools if we have good teachers and we have poor schools if the teachers are not properly trained and professionally minded. The public has an interest in securing the services of the best men and women in the teaching profession that transcends the immediate needs of any group of teachers.

We have been in the habit of thinking of better salaries and better teaching conditions as a matter that effects the teachers only. A little reflection will disabuse the dullest mind of this mischievous error. We need to pay adequate salaries and create good teaching conditions because the interests of children demand it. Any parent understands that the teacher exerts a powerful influence on the children under her charge. She can make or mar the future of the child. When we reflect that an individuals earning capacity and consequently their buying capacity depend on the adequacy and thoroughness of their training it is easy to see that the general public, the tax paying public has a vital interest in securing the best men and women as teachers of the children of the community.

It is recognized throughout the country that teacher training is a matter of the utmost importance. Nearly all city schools demand a two year professional training above the high school and about two years' experience for all teachers entering their schools. The City of Rutland has, therefore, a keen interest in having the State of Vermont adopt a teacher training system that will produce a constant supply of well trained teachers.

The further training of teachers in the service is a matter second only in importance to the training of new entrants. A number of our teachers have attended summer schools at various institutions during recent years. A teacher probably ought to take some advance work as often as once in three years. Our salary schedule should provide for a pecuniary reward for advance training above the minimum of two years after high school graduation.

TEACHING LOAD

Elementary Schools

The total number of pupils divided by the number of teachers gives the teaching load.

261 cities in the United States have a teaching load of 31-32.

242 cities in the United States have a teaching load of 33-34.

Rutland elementary schools have a teaching load of 38.

Rutland has twenty rooms with a teaching load of 40.

This condition must be remedied by the employment of additional teachers, not primarily to lessen the load of the teachers but because the interests of the children require it. The Board of School Commissioners will probably find it possible next year to add three teachers to the force for elementary schools. The teaching load would then be 35 plus. Further additions to the elementary teaching force will be impossible without additional rooms.

In the Rutland High School conditions are somewhat worse. The average teaching load for all high schools in the United States is 20.3

The average teaching load for Rutland High School .. 27 plus

Assuming the addition of $1\frac{1}{2}$ teachers and a probable enrollment of 535 in Sept., 1922, the load will be .. 28

A conservative estimate of the high school enrollment in September, 1923, is 600. The load for the teaching force of the school year 1922-23 would be 31 plus

This situation would constitute such a grave injustice to the children of our high school that parents should not tolerate it.

Assume that we were willing to have our classes five larger than the average for the United States we would need twenty-four (24) teachers in the high school in September, 1923.

A teaching load of 25 is regarded as the "dead line" for high school classes. If we have twenty-four teachers in September, 1923, the teaching load would be 26.

It should be borne in mind that the increase in high school enrollment realized and anticipated in Rutland is in no way unique. There has been an enormous increase in high school registration all over the country. The increase from 1890 to 1918 was over 800 per cent. A new high school has been opened every day for over twenty-eight years. The increase in high school enrollment during the last three or four years has been little short of phenomenal.

The "teaching load" for all high schools in the United States decreased from 25.5 in 1900 to 20.3 in 1918. This means that more effective and intensive work can be done for and by the pupils. The "teaching load" in Rutland means that we are putting a handicap on our boys and girls when they enter into competition with those who graduate from high schools where conditions are more favorable.

Unfortunately the solution of our problem is not as easy as the addition of teachers would seem to indicate. We cannot solve our high school problem by the addition of teachers because we have reached the limit of the capacity of the present plant, in fact we have far exceeded it.

EVENING SCHOOL

The Rutland Woman's Club has conducted an Evening School for a number of years with a high degree of success. It would be difficult to commend too highly the important community service rendered by this club. The time has now come when the Board of School Commissioners, acting for the City of Rutland, should assume full responsibility for this necessary activity. We should offer, in addition to the elementary subjects now taught, commercial subjects, mechanical drawing and any other subject in which there is a minimum enrollment of ten. The value to the community of further education of those who, because of economic or other conditions, were forced to leave school at an early age is too well known to need argument. It is at once a solemn duty and a sound investment.

Section 1236 of the General Laws of the State of Vermont relating to Department of Education reads:

"A town district may maintain one or more evening schools for persons above the compulsory school age, and such schools shall be considered public schools."

SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY NURSE

Every well conceived system of education gives an important place to its health program. A committee of the National Education Association has laid down seven main objectives of education, placing health at the head of the list declaring that it is of basic importance.

One of the chief causes of retarded pupils is absence from school caused largely by sickness. There are three hundred or more pupils in the schools of Rutland that are over age and have been retarded in their school progress. A little reflection will show any person that it is bad financial policy to teach pupils over a second time. It takes the full time of eight teachers to teach the pupils who have been over the grade once before and at a cost of over $8,000.

A School and Community Nurse of the efficiency of the one now in service in Rutland eliminates a considerable percentage of retardation because she prevents to a large extent the spread of the contagious diseases so common during childhood.

For three years or more the local Red Cross has furnished most of the funds for this service but are unable to continue financial support much longer. This field of community service should be taken over by the Board of School Commissioners and given proper support out of the general funds at their disposal.

Chapter 64 of the General Laws of the State of Vermont relating to Department of Education gives ample authority for such action.

RECREATION AND ATHLETICS

Parents all over the country are coming to realize the importance of recreation in the proper development of our boys and girls. The most progressive communities are employing a corps of well trained men and women directors of physical education.

The principals and teachers of our schools have attempted to meet the needs of the children under their charge in this respect but it is out of the question to expect the regular teachers to carry on all the necessary recreational work. Mr. O'Brien in the high school and many other teachers have rendered valuable service in this field. Mr. O'Brien in his report on Athletics to me says: "The importance of athletics in the school curriculum cannot be over-estimated. The rules and regulations which students evolve out of competitive athletics are certainly much more important to them and perhaps more influential upon them than the rules and discipline of their parents and teachers. The highest encomium that can be conferred upon a boy by his fellows is that of 'good sport'. It means a boy of character, persistence, honor and reliability who is just and fair himself and expects his associates to reciprocate."

Mr. O'Brien might have included other forms of recreation with "competitive athletics" and had his remarks still true. The City of Rutland should take to heart Mr. O'Brien's statement regarding the need of a high school with a proper gymnasium.

Any person at all conversant with the facts of the case will understand that the play ground and athletic field are potent factors in the development of the physical, mental and moral vigor of young folks.

The employment of one man and one woman, properly trained, to direct our recreational activities is the aim of all forward looking citizens. It should be understood that the employment of such persons would in no way infringe upon the field already occupied by other agencies. We are not likely to overdo the matter of physical training.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion I wish to express to the Board of School Commissioners, the several faculties of our schools and other employees of the public schools, my appreciation of the hearty co-operation they have accorded me on every occasion.

It is also my desire to express the belief that the citizens of Rutland demand the best possible conditions for their children in our schools and that they are willing to pay the necessary cost. With the support already manifest it will be possible to make the schools of Rutland not only the best in Vermont but second to none of their class anywhere. We ought to be satisfied with nothing less.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM W. FAIRCHILD,
Superintendent of Schools.

Rutland, Vermont,
February 6th, 1922.

Auditor's Report

To the Honorable City Council:

We have examined the books and accounts of the City Treasurer, City Clerk, Overseer of Poor, Superintendent of Schools, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find they have duly accounted for all moneys received by them and that they have proper vouchers for all moneys expended.

We find the records of disbursements as shown by the City Clerk and Superintendent of Schools agree with the entries on the City Treasurer's books.

We have checked the cash, and verified the notes, bonds, deposit books and securities in the hands of the City Treasurer and Sinking Fund Commissioners and found them to be in agreement with the books.

The various books and records in all departments were found in good order, and vouchers for all disbursements were produced.

The Treasurer's book shows a balance of the uncollected taxes as follows: in the hands of Henry R. Adams, for the years 1904-1918, inc., $949.31; in the hands of John E. Barrett, $7,464.26, divided as follows: 1919, $1,402.44; 1920, $2,466.34; 1921, $3,595.48.

JAKE HEYMAN,
ROBERT D. SMITH,
W. T. SIMONDS,
Auditors of the City of Rutland.
